'POWER CRISIS' NGCP renews call for whole-of-industry approach to stabilize supply

GRID operator National Grid Corporation of the Philippines (NGCP) renews its call for a whole-of-industry approach, including better energy resource planning, following the January 2 power outage due to tripping of multiple power plants which isolated Panay island from the rest of the Visayas grid.

"The unscheduled maintenance shutdowns of the largest power plants in Panay island was the primary cause of the power interruption. We emphasize the need for improved planning to ensure sufficient generation per island, with a well-balanced mix of fuels and technology," NGCP said.

In an earlier statement, NGCP reported that various power plants in Panay Island suffered multiple trippings on January 2, including PEDC Unit 1

Real property tax for land in Iloilo City reduced to 60%

In response to clamors from taxpayers and "in the best interest of the public," the city government here reduced to 60 percent the real property tax (RPT) on land for 2024 and 2025.

Iloilo City Mayor Jerry Treñas said taxes are the lifeblood of government and urged the public to pay their taxes promptly, given the reduction.

"We need the funds, but I understand our businesses," he said in a press conference on Tuesday.

Treñas made the announcement following his meeting with City Administrator Melchor Tan, City Assessor Cesar Jalbuena Jr., City Treasurer Jinny Hermano, and executive assistant Nelson Parreño.

The Sangguniang Panlungsod approved the new schedule of values for lands and buildings for real property assessment on June 27, 2023.

In the approved schedule, the rate of levy for lands is adjusted from 1.5 percent to two percent on all lands based on the assessed value of the real property.

The additional ad valorem tax on idle lands was adjusted from one percent to two percent for residential lands and from two percent to three percent on agricultural, commercial, and industrial land based on the assessed value of the real property in addition to the basic real property.

Treñas said revenues are vital to the operation of the local government, especially with some devolved roles due to the Mandanas-Garcia ruling that raised the internal revenue allotment but also increased their functions.

The Supreme Court has ruled that 40 percent of the income-share of local government units (LGUs) should come from taxes collected by the Bureau of Internal Revenue and the Bureau of Customs.

In 2018, Batangas Governor Hermilando Mandanas and then Bataan congressman Enrique Garcia challenged the computation of the just share of LGUs in the national taxes. (PNA)

New Year's eve celebration in WV generally peaceful

Police Regional Office (PRO) 6, headed by PGen. Sidney Villaflor, reported that the Western Visayas region welcomed the year 2024 peacefully and orderly and recorded zero major crimes during the celebration.

PRO 6 said the conduct of crime prevention efforts and increased police visibility led to the decrease of the eight focus crimes.

Based on the comparative statistics, data showed that crime incidents from December 31, 2023, to January 1, 2024, dropped by 53.12 % or 15 cases, fewer than the previous year, which is 32 cases.

These 15 cases are the following: three (3) cases of murder, three (3) homicide, six (6) physical injury, one (1) robbery, and two (2) theft cases.

However, from December 16, 2023 to January 2, 2024 (as of 6 a.m.), 142 firecracker-related incidents have been reported, wherein 146 individuals got injured, 91 of which are minors.

On the other hand, there were two cases of stray bullet incidents and one case of indiscriminate firing were reported during the New Year's eve revelry but is still under investigation.

The safe and peaceful celebration of the holiday season here can be attributed to the honest and aggressive law enforcement operations conducted by police operatives, increased police presence in

Antiqueños urged to uphold values of Dr. Jose Rizal

SAN JOSE DE BUENAVISTA, Antique – Acting Governor Edgar Denosta on Saturday urged Antiqueños to delve into the ideals and principles laid out by Dr. Jose Rizal, the visionary who dedicated his life to the betterment of the nation.

“As we celebrate his (Rizal’s) invaluable contributions, we commemorate not just a historical figure, but a leader whose legacy resonates deeply within the fabric of our society,” Denosta said as he led the provincial government’s commemoration of Rizal’s martyrdom and wreath-laying at the Evelio B. Javier Freedom Park in San Jose de Buenavista on Saturday morning.

He said Dr. Jose Rizal epitomized unwavering dedication towards the welfare and progress of the province and the entirety of the Philippines.

“May this day serve as a poignant reminder of our duty to uphold the values Dr. Jose Rizal espoused,” he said.

Meanwhile, Antique provincial administrator Neri Duremdes, who is also the former Deputy District Grand Master of Masons in the province, paid homage to Rizal who was a Mason himself.

“Rizal Day is significant for the Masons and to all other freedom-loving Filipinos,” he said.

He said the younger generation should emulate and view the national hero as their model because of his sense of patriotism that keeps the nation united and strong. (PNA)

Antique raises 'red alert' to ensure safe New Year's revelry

SAN JOSE DE BUENAVISTA, Antique – The Antique Provincial Disaster Risk Reduction and Management Office (DRRMO) has issued a directive to its personnel and that of the municipal DRRMOs to be on “red alert” to ensure a safe observance of New Year’s Day.

P D R R M O chief Broderick Train said in an interview Friday that the red alert status will run from Dec. 31 to Jan. 2, with provincial and municipal DRRMO personnel being on duty in two shifts for 24 hours.

“There will be a close monitoring of the firecracker zones, beaches and inland resorts as well as other convergence areas to make sure that the people are safe,” he said.

He added that the deployment of the provincial and municipal DRRMO personnel will allow them to swiftly respond to any New Year’s Day-related incidents.

The province has not yet received any report related to the firecracker or other pyrotechnics incident since Christmas Day.

“So far, the Antique Integrated Provincial Health Office has not yet sent us a report related to the firecracker or other pyrotechnics incident,” he said.

Meanwhile, Antique Provincial Police Office

Staff Sergeant John Mark Gonzaga said based on their assessment, the province was generally peaceful with no incident of indiscriminate firing from the police or any other authorities during Christmas Day.

“There will be no nozzle taping of guns anymore just like last year,” he said.

Police personnel in Antique also had no nozzle taping during the Christmas Day celebration.

He said police personnel have been on full alert since the first week of December when Antique had its Binarayan Festival, and that the lowering of the alert status will depend on the assessment of the Police Regional Office 6.

Gonzaga reminded commuters to avoid having intoxicating drinks to prevent vehicular accidents.

He also warned firecracker vendors against selling prohibited items such as pla-pla and Goodbye Philippines. (PNA) and 2 (83 MegaWatts each), and PCPC (135MW), among others.

With the tripping of 3 of the largest power generating units and the planned maintenance shutdown of PEDC Unit 3 (150MW), 451MW or 68.75% of the total 656MW in-island generation was lost to the Panay sub-grid.

Maintenance shutdowns and deration of plants outside the Department of Energy’s (DOE) approved Grid Operating and Maintenance Program also contributed to the lack of power supply.

NGCP notes that the factors outlined in its letter to the Iloilo City government dated 11 May 2023 still exist as contributing elements to the power outage on 02 January.

In its letter, NGCP underscores the need to conduct a more robust resource optimization planning by policy makers, to ensure that solutions to power system concerns are approached from all angles, and the most efficient ones prioritized.

Given the configuration of the Panay sub-grid and its dependency on variable energy sources in Negros when it loses internally generated power, NGCP also noted the need to provide sufficient non-variable sources to stabilize the system.

The Iloilo Economic Development Foundation, Inc. (ILEDGF) expressed its deep concern over the unfortunate power outage that occurred at the outset of the resumption of work on Jan. 2.

“This unforeseen event has undoubtedly posed challenges to our local businesses, industries, and the overall economic activity within our community. The power blackout has, regrettably, disrupted normal operations for numerous businesses, hindering productivity and causing inconvenience to our residents. We understand the gravity of the situation and empathize with those who have been directly affected by the outage,” ILEDGF said in a statement released on Wednesday.

Meanwhile, the Philippine Chamber of Commerce and Industry (PCCI) Iloilo City chapter, in a letter addressed to Mayor Jerry P. Treñas, raised its concern about the effect of frequent outages on businesses and residents and proposed a collaborative approach to address the concerns effectively.

“These challenges underscore the importance of a reliable and uninterrupted electricity supply for the smooth functioning of our city,” said the letter signed by its president, Engr. Fulbert Woo.

As an offshoot of massive power interruption, various schools on Panay Island have suspended face to face classes.

In Iloilo City, Mayor Treñas suspended classes in both public and private schools since Jan. 3.

“The prolonged power outage exposes our children and students to the effects of heat and humidity which may lead to heat-related illness exacerbated by lack of adequate sleep or general feeling of drowsiness; and possible exhaustion from travel or commute.

Returning to school may further result to unfavorable classroom conditions given that some have no electricity and will not promote positive learning environment,” the mayor said.

ISUFST author Cong Biron Univ Week kick-off speaker

SAN ENRIQUE CAMPUS, ILOILO— Fourth District Congressman Ferjanel Biron, author of the law that converted Iloilo State College of Fisheries (ISCOF) into the Iloilo State University of Fisheries Science and Technology (ISUFST), is the invited inspirational speaker in the University Week opening ceremony here on Monday morning, January 8, 2023.

Cong. Biron, also one of the members of the university’s Board of Regents, sponsored legislation that led to the enactment of Republic Act No. 10604 and, later, RA 11012. These acts laid the foundation for transforming the then 65-year-old ISCOF into the now one-year-old ISUFST. His continued support for the school’s development projects has been instrumental in its growth and development.

Among those who were also invited to grace the inaugural event are CHED Regional Director

Dr. Raul Alvarez and San Enrique Municipal Mayor Hon. Rosario Mediatrix Fernandez. CHED Commissioner Dr. Prospero de Vera, and International Affairs Staff Director Atty are also invited to give their messages. Lily Freida Milla, and ISUFST President Dr. Nordy Siason, Jr.

The day’s events will start early with a Holy Mass at 6:30 a.m. at the Parish of Mary, Help of Christians, setting a reverent tone for the celebrations. This will be followed by a foot parade at 8 a.m. from the Municipal Plaza to the ISUFST San Enrique Campus, featuring a wide array of participants, including the San Enrique marshalls and uniformed personnel, ROTC Officers, various Drum and Lyre Corps from local schools, guests, and cheer dancers, faculty, students, and staff from the Dingle, San Enrique, Dumangas, campuses and the Barotac Nuevo Main campus Ilaya-Poblacion and Tiwi Sites.

The opening program will kick off at 8:30 a.m. at the ISUFST-SEC University Grounds, followed by the spirited cheer dance competition. The attendees, which include faculty, staff, and students from various ISUFST campuses, will be treated to a feast of talent and enthusiasm, showcasing the university’s diverse community.

At 11:30 a.m., the university will open its Food Fest and Exhibits at the College of Agriculture Grounds, offering an array of culinary delights and creative displays. The luncheon at noon will provide an opportunity for guests and participants to mingle and enjoy the festive atmosphere.

The afternoon will be filled with a range of sports activities starting at 1 p.m., including volleyball at the University Grounds, basketball at the San Enrique Municipal Gym, badminton at the ISUFST Civic and

Power blackout hits Panay, Guimaras, Negros

ILOILO CITY – Iloilo City Mayor Jerry Treñas called on the Department of Energy (DOE) and the National Grid Corporation of the Philippines (NGCP) to address the power blackout that hit Panay, Guimaras, and Negros on Tuesday.

“I am told that due to the unstable supply of NGCP, both Panay and Negros are in total blackout. I call on ERC (Energy Regulatory Commission), DOE, and other regulatory bodies to hold NGCP accountable for this,” Treñas said in a statement.

He also called on NGCP to find a more sustainable solution to the problem.

“NGCP gave Panay and Negros a welcome blackout for 2024 on the first day of work. NGCP should be held accountable for this incompetence,” he added.

Based on the mayor’s information, the NGCP said as of 3:07 p.m., Panay was “totally isolated from the rest of the Visayas Grid,” and the restoration is ongoing.

In a Facebook post, the Guimaras Electric Cooperative (GUIMELCO) said it is in constant communication with the NGCP as the grid disturbance has also caused unscheduled power interruption on the island.

“As per initial information, voltage is fluctuating. Other electric cooperatives and distribution utilities within Western Visayas are also affected,” the GUIMELCO advisory said.

Treñas, who also chairs the Infrastructure Development Committee (IDC) of the Regional Development Council (RDC), said he will immediately look into the issue.

Last year, he said Panay Island also suffered from a three-day blackout.

In a statement, Panay Energy Development Corporation (PEDC) said while the investigation is ongoing on the reason for the tripping of its generating units 1 and 2, it is also working closely with the NGCP on feedback for them to restart the two units as soon as possible.

Following the power disturbance that hit the Panay Grid and part of Negros this afternoon, the Department of Energy is closely coordinating with the NGCP and all affected generation plants and distribution utilities (DUs). We assure the public that power restoration is of priority.

Meanwhile, the ERC is investigating the incident. (PNA)

Mayor Alfredo Abelardo Benitez said the city government submitted a letter of intent to the Department of Transportation - LTRFB for the still unconsolidated jeepneys to avoid penalty, continue operations, and comply with the Dec. 31 consolidation deadline.

"The city, in coordination with the jeepney drivers, has agreed that we will send a letter of intent, and we will work out the details afterward. The city will now be an active partner or will provide support to them," he said in a press conference on Tuesday.

City Administrator Lucille Gelvolea said the Samahan ng mga Tsuper at Operators Negros (STONE) and a transport group from Barangay Granada have communicated to the mayor, expressing their willingness to consolidate. "They sent letters to the mayor for endorsement to the LTRFB requesting an extension. We hope our traditional jeepneys can still operate for an extended time while the city is working with them to be consolidated," she added.

STONE, which has more than a thousand members, is one of the major transport groups in the city.

Gelvolea said the city government would reach out to operators and driver groups that have yet to consolidate.

"This is a national law. We really have to comply. Maybe we just have to do it gradually. We hope they will realize that the local government has to comply; all we have to do is to help them," she said.

In Bacolod, a minor transport group, the Bacolod Alliance of Commuters, Operators, and Drivers, has been protesting the implementation of the PUVMP and the Local Public Transport Route Plan (LPTRP).

The LPTRP identified 24 routes in the city, with a total allocation of 1,099 modern jeepney units under the PUVMP. (PNA)

Negros Occidental incurs hog industry losses, cited for peace efforts

BACOLOD CITY – It was a year of triumphs and setbacks for Negros Occidental as the province received national recognition for its outstanding local initiatives under the leadership of Governor Eugenio Jose Lacson, but also suffered unprecedented losses in its multi-billion hog industry due to diseases.

Local peace efforts In early December, Lacson, who chairs the Regional Peace and Order Council (RPOC) in Western Visayas, received the Gawad Parangal from the National Task Force to End Local Communist Armed Conflict (NTF-ELCAC) during its fifth founding anniversary at Camp Aguinaldo in Quezon City.

He was cited for his efforts in making a positive impact on society, and working for the convergence of efforts to attain the goals of ending the local armed conflict.

As the chairperson of the RPOC and Provincial TF-ELCAC, Lacson has been advocating for the surrender of communist rebels and avail of the benefits offered by the national and local governments, and make Negros Occidental insurgency-free.

Meanwhile, the Negros Occidental Police Provincial Office, led by provincial director Col. Leo Pamittan, was also awarded Best Police Provincial Office in rites celebrating the 122nd Police Service anniversary of the Philippine National Police in August.

The peace efforts, however, also suffered some setbacks.

In August, a police officer died while three others were wounded in an armed encounter while on their way to serve warrants of arrest to communist terrorists in the hinterlands of Calatrava town, northern Negros.

Cpl. Jaime Nuñez died while those wounded were deputy station chief Capt. Jesus Alba, Staff Sgt. Frank Caballero and Cpl. Dennis Nasis, all of Calatrava police.

“We should push ELCAC because we want a peaceful society. We cannot allow this to continue,” Lacson said.

Seal of Good Local Governance

Another national recognition conferred on Negros Occidental was its inclusion in the roster of the Seal of Good Local Governance (SGLG) awardees last December 14 by the Department of the Interior and Local Government.

The SGLG, enacted through Republic Act 11292 in 2019, is an institutionalized award, incentive, honor, and recognition-based program that encourages the commitment of LGUs to continuously progress and improve their performance in various governance areas.

For the feat, the provincial government received an SGLG marker and an incentive fund of PHP4 million.

“The SGLG represents more than an award and a distinction and serves as a testament to the province’s unwavering commitment to delivering outstanding public service through fostering transparency, upholding accountability, and embracing the principles of good governance,” Lacson said in a statement following the awarding ceremonies at the Manila Hotel.

Rice at P25 per kilo On the local front, Negros Occidental has been a trailblazer in offering rice at a lower price in the local market.

Hopeful Filipinos

Editorial

If you're filled with hope as we enter a new year, you're not alone.

You're one of the 96 percent of Filipinos – if we now have a total population of 140 million, that would mean more than 134.4 million of us – who have welcomed 2024 with optimism.

That's the finding of the recent survey by Social Weather Stations. The 96 percent figure is a record-high, the SWS said, as it is one point higher than last year's 95 percent.

Since the polling firm started asking the question in 2000, it said, the record-high 96 percent was only obtained twice before, in 2017 and 2019. The record-low was in December 2004, when only 81 percent said they would welcome the coming year with hope.

Since 2010, the percentage of Filipinos welcoming the new year with hope has stayed above 90 percent, with the lowest in November 2020 at 91 percent due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

The latest survey, from Dec. 8 to 11, also found that only three percent would enter 2024 with fear, the lowest since SWS started conducting surveys in 2000.

Across areas, those who said they would greet the new year with hope was highest among respondents in Metro Manila and the rest of Luzon at 97 percent (from 93 percent and 97 percent, respectively), followed by those in Mindanao at 96 percent (from 93 percent) and the Visayas at 93 percent (from 95 percent).

What's likely to give Filipinos hope when a new year arrives?

On a personal level, it could mean landing a lucrative job, or getting a salary raise, perhaps a reward or commendation for a job well done in the past year.

At the economic/political/social levels, it could be sustained economic growth that assures people of prosperous lives, prevalence of law and order that allows people to go about their daily lives without fear of falling victim to crime, social conditions that facilitate interaction and deepened friendship with other people.

And what would make Filipinos lose hope with the onset of a new year?

Again, on a personal level, it could be the loss of one's job or livelihood, the loss of a loved one, serious illness in the family.

At the economic/political/social levels, it could be poverty and accompanying hunger, inability to cope with high prices of goods and services for daily living, rampant criminality, unstable political situation, social inequality.

It is the task of government to establish the conditions for Filipinos to look forward to every new year – and the future – with hope.

We don't have to look far and wide to see just how that may be done.

It's in our fundamental law: The State shall "promote a just and dynamic social order that will ensure the prosperity and independence of the nation and free the people from poverty through policies that provide adequate social services, promote full employment, a rising standard of living, and an improved quality of life for all." Feast of the Three Wise Men

"May the wisdom that guided the Magi guide you to your own light" - Anonymous

In a few days, we will be celebrating the Feast of the Epiphany or the Feast of the Three Kings as it is most commonly known here in the Philippines. It commemorates the time when, according to the Gospel of Matthew, three wise men or Magi were led by the Star of Bethlehem to where Jesus was born.

Though not as widely celebrated today in the Philippines, the Feast of the Three Kings still marks the end of the months-long Christmas season in our country. For some Filipinos, it is just the time when the Christmas decorations are taken down.

Many do not realize the day's significance. The Church teaches us the importance of this day as this day commemorates the time Jesus Christ's true identity was manifested and revealed to the world. What is worse is that some Filipino Christians have even forgotten about this day completely.

Perhaps, the feast of the Epiphany can best be remembered by reviving the traditions connected with the celebration. Christians all over the world have their own ways of celebrating the Feast. In some countries, they bake special cakes for the occasion like the King's cake with its many variations like the Rosca de Reyes (Mexico) and the Dreikönigskuchen (Switzerland). In the Philippines, some households had clean shoes and socks left on the window during this day so that small gifts could be put inside. I remember leaving my oldest and most stretched-out sock during this day so that more toys could fit inside.

In some towns in Luzon, the Feast was celebrated with three men wearing robes riding horses and giving gifts to children. These traditions are part of our culture and losing them totally would also mean losing a great part of ourselves as a people.

During the Feast of the Epiphany. We can also remember the significance of the three wise men. As a child, the three wise men were just three-figure toys in our Nativity display that I could play with during Christmas. I would always imagine them having adventures on the way to visit the newborn Jesus. Like many children, I would also put a figure of the Frankenstein monster following them because I did not know what frankincense was (much to the horror of my mother who is a devout Catholic).

It was only later that I learned who the Magi were. The three wise men were actually foreigners and strangers who brought gifts to someone they did not personally know. Spurred on and guided by the star, the three wise men braved a long journey and risked the wrath of Herod to visit the newborn Jesus. It is a reminder that Jesus was born for everyone in this world and not just for a specific group of people. As Christians, we must do our part to make others feel welcome to share in the celebration.

In the Philippines, the Feast of the Epiphany is also known as "Pasko ng Matatanda" or Feast of the Elderly because the three kings are usually depicted as wise old men. As such, this day can also be an occasion to remember and honor the elderly or senior citizens among us. Our elders have played a pivotal role both in shaping our families and our country. Unfortunately, there are some individuals or groups who still fail to respect and give seniors their due. There have even been recent cases reported in the news about establishments that were sued for not giving the proper senior citizen discount. Maybe it is time to pay more attention to empowering the elderly.

This week, let us end the Christmas season by gathering with family and friends one more time to celebrate the feast of the three wise men before we face the reality of 2024. Happy Three Kings everyone!

Overseas Filipino workers and the holiday season

An estimated hundred thousand overseas Filipino workers (OFWs) are back in the Philippines for the holiday season. This is the time of the year when they bond with their families as they endure a yearlong absence. Christmas and New Year celebrations have profound significance for OFWs. This season provides emotional connection as they join their families in the country. The emotional, cultural, and social importance of Christmas to families provides impetus for OFWs to spend the season with their families, relatives, and friends.

OFWs experience homesickness abroad as they long for the presence of their loved ones. We all have friends and relatives working abroad, at one time or another, and we know the impact on the family once a parent works abroad. The lack of employment opportunities and low wages in the country compel Filipinos to work abroad so they can provide better financial support for their families.

Employers usually grant OFWs a 15-day vacation for each year of their contract, as stipulated in their employment agreements. The standard contract for land-based OFWs is two years. Overseas Filipinos usually take a single vacation within the contract where they spend 30 days with their families.

The Philippines holds the title of being the number one country in labor exportation. The Philippine Statistics Authority (PSA) estimates that 10 percent of the population works overseas. According to the PSA, from April to September 2022 alone, there were an estimated 1.96 million OFWs, an increase of 7.6 percent in the same period of 2021. The same PSA report also stated that the majority of the OFWs were female (57.8 percent). This confirms the phenomenon of “feminization of migration” in the 1990s when the trend was the migration of a lot of women from the service sector, particularly domestic helpers, who became officially known as household service workers (HSWs). You can just imagine that in 1972, there were only 14,366 overseas contract workers (OCWs). By 1975, when the Marcos Sr. administration started its overseas employment program, the number ballooned to 36,035 OCWs.

The rest is history, as the Philippines has become the largest exporter of labor with a government system in place to process their deployment. The Philippines also has the largest number of seafarers abroad. In fact, the Philippines is called the “seafaring capital of the world” since it deploys 25 percent of the world’s seafarers. This means that for every four seafarers on international vessels, there is one Filipino.

Can you believe that we deployed more than 3,000 OFWs a day in 2022? The highest deployment, however, was in 2016, when deployment was 6,994 per day, for a total deployment of 2,552,879. The trend was increasing until the pandemic when almost all countries closed their borders and hundreds of thousands of OFWs returned to the Philippines, uncertain of the plight of their families.

OFWs are hailed as modern-day heroes because their remittances keep the Philippine economy afloat. Data from the Bangko Sentral ng Pilipinas (BSP) showed that in 2022, personal cash remittances of OFWs reached USD36.15 billion. This represents 8.9 percent of the country’s gross domestic product (GDP). Every December of each year, OFW remittances increase, such as in December 2022, when USD3.49 billion was registered. Why the increase in remittances every December? The holiday season is a cultural practice of gift-giving and also of consumerism when Filipinos buy appliances, clothes, and shoes, among many others. You can just imagine the traffic in the metropolis during the holiday season. In the provinces, people are also buying items for gift-giving. In every corner of the Philippines, OFW remittances are helping the economy as monies flow from OFW families to local stores, shops, and the use of public utility vehicles, among others.

FRESH VIEWPOINTS: A NEW PERSPECTIVE

By Brian James Lu

With overseas employment sustaining the livelihood of many Filipinos, I am not surprised when the Social Weather Stations (SWS) said in its survey in April 2023 that two out of ten adults aspire to live abroad and the other 7 percent are already looking for work overseas. The same SWS survey also noted that 75 percent of households often receive money from OFW family members, further immortalizing the situation that the only way out for most Filipinos is to work abroad.

Employers abroad prefer Filipinos because they work hard and can communicate in English. Filipinos are known to be more successful when they work abroad compared to other nationalities. According to data from the Philippine Overseas Employment Administration (POEA), Filipinos can be found in 216 countries, demonstrating their widespread presence. Even in war-torn areas, you can expect an OFW there to be patiently struggling to provide for his or her family back home.

President Ferdinand R. Marcos Jr. has promised to work closely with the governments of host countries to better protect OFWs, as he recognizes the challenges they face. The President’s statement is a recognition of the sacrifices of OFWs and their families. And what better way to acknowledge them for their contribution to the country than to ensure their safety, welfare, and well-being?

New Year’s Resolutions

Just before the New Year revelries, the Social Weather Stations released the results of its survey that showed 96 percent of Filipinos are entering 2024 “with hope”—the highest since the pandemic hit.

The wide scale and record-high optimism sets the stage for the country this year as the government moves towards achieving upper-middle income status.

Amplifying this optimism is President Ferdinand R. Marcos Jr.’s New Year message to the nation, where he vowed to slash bureaucratic red tape to steer the country towards further economic progress.

“We will continue to purge the government of rules that slow the delivery of public services because when projects get delayed, progress is denied to our people,” the President said.

“Ang New Year’s resolution ng inyong pamahalaan ay ang puspusangpagsisikapupangmaggawad ng mahusay at tapatnaserbisyonasusi ng pagpapaganda ng buhaynatinglahat (Your government’s New Year’s resolution is to work hard in providing honest and excellent service which is the key to a better life for all of us),” he added.

The President’s commitment to turn 2024 into a year of efficiency is a welcome development that adds to the wide scale optimism for the New Year given that one way or another, Filipinos have all encountered some sort of red tape when transacting with the government.

While notable progress has been made to address red tape—primarily through the Ease of Doing Business Law and the creation of the Anti-Red Tape Authority (ARTA)—there is still much that can be done to improve government service delivery to Filipinos.

In 2024, the government must sustain its streamlining efforts, primarily through the digitalization of many processes and services at both the local and national levels.

Wide scale digitalization of government transactions, if properly implemented, will not only address efficiency issues but also provide additional convenience to the transacting public. After all, as the President said: “Service delayed is service denied.”

Reasonable flexibility, when observed by government agencies, can help ensure that services are efficiently delivered to the public, of course without sacrificing adherence to protocols. A welcome development in this regard is the recent announcement of ARTA on the launch of two new digital platforms—the Anti-Red Tape Electronic Management Information System (ARTEMIS) and Philippine Business Regulations Information System (PBRIS)—which aim to address overlapping and conflicting rules, requirements, and policies across the government. The digital platforms will also serve as an online database for Filipinos to check requirements for specific government transactions to do away with back-and-forth dealings.

Not many realize this, but government efficiency is a key pillar in achieving and sustaining further economic growth since it serves as a benchmark for the quality of service that our country has. A highly efficient government sends a positive signal to the world that the Philippines can get things done on time while bureaucratic red tape is simply discouraging for business.

ESPRESSO MORNINGS

By JOE ZALDARRIAGA

Addressing government service efficiency roadblocks will play a big role in a multitude of factors that define our country’s progress—economic growth, delivery of social services, crisis response, and education system among others.

Of course, it goes without saying that the fight against red tape is a joint effort between the government and the people. If the government’s New Year’s resolution is to slash red tape, the public must also share in this by shunning away fixers and properly complying with established protocols.

New Year optimism is nothing new but the record-high positive sentiment this 2024 is a powerful tool in advocating programs that will help boost government efficiency which in turn will help improve the quality of service Filipinos receive.

For 2024, I sincerely wish to see a noteworthy improvement in Filipinos’ overall quality of life from last year.

Happy New Year to all! May 2024 be a meaningful, productive, and prosperous year for the Philippines.

Bacolod City to develop recycling complex under PPP scheme

BACOLOD CITY – Several firms have expressed interest in bidding for the proposed solid waste recycling complex in Bacolod City under a public-public partnership (PPP) scheme.

Mayor Alfredo Abelardo Benitez said Tuesday the city government is heading toward recycling 80 percent of its solid waste.

“We’re working on the assumption of a PPP. We’re migrating from a landfill to recycling facilities, a recycling complex. We want a circular waste management system, wherein all disposed wastes are recycled,” he said in a press conference.

Benitez said some companies have already purchased bidding documents.

The city government extended until April 30 this year the contract of IPM-Construction and Development Corp. (CDC) to manage and operate the sanitary landfill in Barangay Felisa that was supposed to end Dec. 31, 2023.

Also, the city’s contract with IPM-CDC to collect, haul, and dispose of garbage has a one-month extension up to the end of this month.

The extension was based on the provision of both contracts, stating that the deal “is renewable or can be extended for not more than four months at the option solely of the city government, as represented by the chief executive,” if “still necessary and until a new bidding is successfully completed”.

“I assume we can finish the bidding for the new contract (for collection, hauling, and disposal) next month. It’s scheduled for bidding this January,” Benitez said.

The mayor also said the result of a study assessing the total volume of waste generated by the city will be presented to him soon.

“We will know the volume of waste on a daily basis and its location so that we can properly address the collection of all this garbage. We will have complete data of what we require,” he added.

Benitez said the terms of reference of the city’s next contract for garbage collection, hauling, and disposal would already include areas currently not served, such as small pathways or alleys. (PNA)

In October and November, farmers of the Federation of Irrigators’ Association of Central Negros-Bago River Irrigation System (FIACN-BRIS) sold rice at only PHP25 per kilogram at the “Bigasan ng Bayan” at the Food Terminal Market in Bacolod City.

Lacson lauded the voluntary act of the irrigators’ association, composed of rice farmers from Bago City and the neighboring LGUs, of making low-priced rice available to Negrenses.

The provincial government earlier tapped the FIACN-BRIS, which is under the National Irrigation Administration-Negros Occidental Irrigation Management Office, for its Dagyaw Project to produce high-yield rice at a lower production cost with the assistance of job order workers, who are also association members, in planting crops and operating farm machinery.

ASF, other hog diseases ravage P6-B swine industry

After over three years of being free from African swine fever (ASF), the dreaded viral disease hit several farms in various parts of Negros Occidental last April, wreaking havoc to the province’s PHP6-billion hog industry.

ASF and other animal illnesses, such as hog cholera, almost wiped out the swine population in some localities in the fourth district, among these San Enrique town and Bago City.

Data from the Provincial Animal Biosecurity Incident Management Team showed that in Negros Occidental, which is a top backyard hog producer in the country, almost 18,000 pigs have died in at least 20 LGUs between April and August.

The estimated loss was valued at close to PHP200 million. (PNA)

Globe's Hapag Movement fulfills wishes of Cebu scholars through 'Wish' screening

CEBU CITY– Until that evening two weeks before Christmas, 22-year-old Michelle Camus had never been to the cinema. She had only seen movies on television, hearing from friends all about the “ambiance” in a movie theater.

“They say inside the cinema it’s lights off. I thought the lights were turned on. I really wanted to experience this, watching in the cinema. This is not just my wish. Ginusto ko talaga makarating sa cinema (I really wanted to go to a cinema). And at the age of 22, I’m here. So napakasaya naman nito (I’m really happy about this!)” she excitedly said.

Camus is among 69 scholars of Tzu Chi Foundation who were treated to a full cinematic experience organized by Globe’s Hapag Movement, with support from the We Are Ayala Business Club

- Cebu (WAABC-Cebu). The scholars enjoyed a private screening of Disney Animation’s latest musical comedy “Wish” on December 12 at the Ayala Malls Central Bloc.

Indeed, it was a wish come true for the scholars, all students of humanities classes under Tzu Chi, among Hapag Movement’s implementing partners. Not only did they get to watch the movie in a private screening in one of Ayala Cinemas’ most comfortable theaters, they also got to enjoy fun games, prizes, food, drinks and other surprises.

“For me it’s a great privilege. Bihira lang maka-join lalo sa ganitong pagkakataon, especially with scholars of Tzu Chi Foundation and together with the Hapag Movement. We’re so blessed. And hopefully marami pang matulungan ang Hapag at napaka-blessed namin sa taon ngayon dahil isa kami sa naimbita sa araw na ito (It is very seldom that we get this kind of opportunity, specially with scholars of Tzu Chi Foundation and Hapag Movement. We’re so blessed and hopefully, there will be more people that the Hapag Movement will be able to help. We are really blessed this year because we got to be invited to be here today),” said Shyrwin Rondina, also among scholars invited to the screening.

Marief Ybañez, Certified Commissioner at Tzu Chi Foundation Cebu, said: “These activities will help our scholars learn more about life through movies. In Tzu Chi, we teach them values and through this movie “Wish,” they will learn a lot. That’s really the teaching of Tzu Chi, for us to become a star for other people,” Ybañez said.

At the special screening, Patrick Gloria, Globe Group Vice President for External Affairs, spoke to the scholars about the Hapag Movement and thanked collaborators that made the event possible.

“This special screening organized by Globe is supported by WeAreAyala Business Club - Cebu for the benefit of the Hapag Movement. The Hapag Movement is a program where we help the most vulnerable people in society, especially children. We make sure we feed them right and give their families livelihood training so that they will have a sustainable source of income to put food on their table. Thank you for doing this with us and let’s do this again next year,” Gloria said.

By leveraging technology and partnerships, the Hapag Movement aims to help 100,000 families battling involuntary hunger through supplemental feeding and livelihood training.
