ABOUT 1,668 beneficiaries – consisting of farmers, fisherfolk and their families – have received financial aid under the Presidential Assistance to Farmers, Fisherfolk, and Families (PAFFF) at Haw-as Arena in Dumangas, Iloilo on October 26.

The said event coincided with the opening of the Haw-as Festival.

With a total allocated fund of Php16.68 million, the beneficiaries have received Php10,000 each.

This fund included Php12.650 million PAFFF fund that President Ferdinand "Bongbong" Marcos Jr. has turned over on June 27 in Antique, an additional Php1.1 million from Cong. James "Jojo" Ang Jr., and Php2.930 million from 4th District Rep. Ferjanel Biron.

The financial distribution was led by Gov. Arthur "Toto" Defensor Jr. along with Provincial Legal Officer Atty. Dennis Ventilacion, Provincial Agriculturist Ildefonso Toledo, Uswag Ilonggo Partylist Representative Cong. James "Jojo" Ang Jr., and local officials from the fourth district of Iloilo Province.

In his speech, Gov. Defensor highlighted agriculture as a primary focus for the provincial government, acknowledging the reliance of many Ilonggos on farming and fishing.

He noted the provincial government's commitment to supporting agricultural growth through initiatives such as hybrid rice programs, irrigation, and rice processing, aiming to reach a production target of six metric tons per hectare.

Previously, the provincial government through the Provincial Agriculture Office has also distributed financial aid to 3,949 farmers and fisherfolk.

PAFFF is an initiative of the government which aims to support the recovery and stability of farmers and fisherfolk who were extremely affected by the El Niño phenomenon or drought season.

NDA holds 2024 National Dairy Summit in Iloilo City

By MARY JOY CAVAÑAS

THE National Dairy Authority (NDA) in partnership with the Western Visayas Dairy Farmers and Stakeholders Agriventures Inc., conducted the 2024 National Dairy Summit at the Iloilo Convention Center in Mandurriao, Iloilo City on October 28-30.

With the theme "Advancing DAIRYpreneurship, Innovation, Nutrition, Sustainability, and Food Security," the summit was attended by hundreds of participants from the dairy sector, alongside dairy experts and practitioners from both national and international backgrounds.

This year's summit, the largest dairy event of 2024, featured discussions on best practices within the dairy industry, focusing on innovation, sustainability, and food security.

Attendees were treated to exhibitions highlighting the latest products, services, and technological advancements in dairy, aimed at enhancing productivity, nutrition, and sustainability within the sector.

The National Dairy Authority (NDA) aims to boost the Philippines' dairy industry with a strategic plan targeting a 5% milk sufficiency rate, equivalent to 80 million liters of milk by 2028. For the near term, the NDA aims to reach a 2.5% milk sufficiency rate by 2025, building on the current rate of 1%.

To achieve these targets, the NDA has outlined several objectives:

* Herd Expansion: Increasing the number of dairy animals to enhance overall milk production.

Iloilo City Acting Mayor Jeffrey Ganson, NDA Administrator Atty. Marcus Antonius Andaya, Department of Agriculture Undersecretary Deogracias Savellano, COOP-NATCCO Partylist Representative Felimon Espares, Architect Johnny Que, among others, led the opening of the 2024 National Dairy Summit at the Iloilo Convention Center in Mandurriao, Iloilo City on October 28-30.

* Yield Improvement: Providing proper nutrition and food supplies to dairy herds to increase productivity.

* Demand Generation: Partnering with local sectors to boost demand for locally produced milk.

* Public Awareness: Launching the National Dairy Campaign to emphasize milk's nutritional benefits, especially for children, pregnant women, and nursing mothers.

* Dairy Farmer Growth: Expanding the number of dairy farmers to strengthen and scale up the industry.

The NDA aims for these efforts to contribute to a sustainable dairy value chain, ensuring both the growth of the local dairy sector and a reliable supply of milk across the country.

Meanwhile, the three-day dairy summit was also attended by key figures including Acting Mayor Jeffrey Ganson, NDA Administrator Atty. Marcus Antonius Andaya, Department of Agriculture Undersecretary Deogracias Savellano, COOP-NATCCO Partylist Representative Felimon Espares, Architect Johnny Que, among others.

DPWH completes farm-to-market road in northern Iloilo

THE concreting of the farm-to-market (FMR) road in Barangay Tupaz in Carles town is now completed, according to the Department of Public Works and Highways (DPWH) 6.

In convergence with the Department of Agriculture, the P11-million worth FMR project is built by the DPWH Iloilo 3rd District Engineering Office. Its construction was funded under the District's FY 2023 General Appropriations Act (GAA) aimed at enhancing local agricultural connectivity.

The project which involved the construction of 1-kilometer long, 5-meter wide, 2-lane Portland Concrete Cement Pavement (PCCP) is expected to improve the town's transport system substantially benefiting local farmers and fisherfolk.

DPWH 6 Regional Director Sanny Boy O. Oropel said the improved road is set to enhance the efficiency of transporting agricultural produce, thereby supporting the local economy and fostering growth within the community.

"This farm-to-market road offers local farmers faster access to transport their goods and products. The road will assure and facilitate the effective transit of the town's diverse agricultural and fishery products, and residents will make more progress," said Oropel. (PIA-6)

DA-Western Visayas harvests 12 metric tons of new rice variety

The Department of Agriculture (DA) harvested around 12.4 metric tons of the NSIC Rc 604 (saline-resistant variety) of rice in the two-hectare area of its Western Visayas Integrated Agricultural Research Center (DA-WESVIARC), Jaro, Iloilo, City.

The metric tons harvested are equivalent to 252 bags; each bag weighing more than 49 kilograms.

According to Science Research Specialist Engr. Florida Demamay, the said rice variety is part of the ongoing efforts at WESVIARC to test its yield performance and develop resilient rice varieties suitable for irrigated lowland areas with saline conditions.

"The department, through the Masagana Rice Industry Development Program, hopes to expand rice production areas next year particularly in farms with high salinity," she added.

The Palay Check System and Rice Crop Management Advisory Service were employed to optimize production and yield of rice.

The rice was planted on July 8 this year and harvested on October 7, thus grown for three months. (PIA 6)

Swedfund's grant will fund a comprehensive feasibility study covering technical assessments, financial projections, and environmental and social impact analyses.

This study will determine the viability and sustainability of the proposed BRT system in Metro Iloilo, aiming to meet the rising demand for modern public transport.

Acting Mayor Ganson expressed optimism about the partnership, viewing it as a milestone towards a more efficient transportation system.

In addition, Ambassador Harald Fries affirmed Sweden's commitment to supporting sustainable development projects in the Philippines, underscoring the collaboration's potential to improve urban mobility and quality of life for Iloilo residents.

Meanwhile, the said grant represents the strong relationship between Sweden and the Philippines, highlighting Sweden's support for local governments like Iloilo in terms of strengthening key industries such as infrastructure and transportation.

Consumers urged to support local, buy early

ILOILO CITY – Consumers are advised to shop early for flowers with prices expected to be dictated by the demand and choose local as they observe Undas.

In a press conference on Wednesday, Department of Trade and Industry (DTI) Antique director Mutya Eusores said the purchasing power of consumers is affected by their time to look for the best items or goods.

“If you will be given the time to look around before you decide which and where to purchase, you do so. You may be able to get something cheaper if you get to go around, also. You have to spend time when you are on a tight budget,” she said.

DTI Aklan director Romel Amihan said, based on their monitoring record, the prices of flowers vary, so it is better to do some canvassing if they have the time.

“It really matters to do canvass for you to be able to source relatively lower prices of flowers,” Amihan said.

Flowers sold in the region are mostly sourced from Dangwa in Manila, while others are from Baguio and imported from China.

DTI regional director Rachel Nufable, in the meantime, encouraged consumers to support and buy locally-produced candles and food.

She said there are small producers of candles, particularly decorative ones. “It’s good also to consider our local products. Other than cheaper because the cost of logistics is low, we can also help our local entrepreneurs. We advocate go local, buy local,” she said.

In the meantime, DTI assured a sufficient supply of candles and bottled water, two of the most sought-after commodities during Undas.

Lawyer Jazer Mirada, officer-in-charge of DTI Consumer Protection Division, said all prices are within the suggested retail price.

He cited, as an example, the 350ml of Absolute pure distilled drinking water, which costs PHP12, and Wilkins 330 ml at PHP12.

Other brands are even lower, he said.

The cost of Liwanag Esperma No. 3 white candles is PHP65.78 for a pack of 20, while some retailers are selling at PHP64.75.

The Manila Wax No. 14 white is sold at PHP54.10 for a pack of five, but some retailers sell them at PHP53.75.

He added that local government units are also required to activate their local price monitoring council. (PNA)

BUY EARLY, SUPPORT LOCAL. Officials of the Department of Trade and Industry (DTI) Western Visayas advise consumers to buy early and support local products before the observance of Undas in a press conference on Wednesday (Oct. 30, 2024). DTI regional director Rachel Nufable said aside from being cheaper, patronizing local products will also help local entrepreneurs. (PNA photo by PGLena)

“Hyder has direct contact inside (National Bilibid Prison) in Muntinlupa. Hyder and John are members of the Happy Go Lucky gang inside Muntinlupa,” said Capt. Ryan Christ Inot, officer-in-charge of the ICPO-City Drug Enforcement Unit (CDEU), in an interview on Wednesday.

‘Leon’ damages 5 houses, 12 families evacuated in Antique

SAN JOSE DE BUENAVISTA, Antique – The strong winds brought by Super Typhoon Leon (international name Kong-rey) destroyed a house, damaged four houses, and caused the preemptive evacuation of 12 families in Antique.

“The houses were of light materials and in the upland barangays,” Local Disaster Risk Reduction and Management Officer III Michael Tolentino said in an interview Wednesday, noting they were vulnerable to strong winds because of their location.

Four of the five houses were in San Remigio and one was from the municipality of Laua-an.

Meanwhile, of the 12 families preemptively evacuated on Oct. 29, five were from San Jose de Buenavista, four from San Remigio, two from Valderrama, and one from Laua-an.

“The preemptively evacuated families preferred to stay with their relatives outside of the evacuation centers except for the two at the Moscoso Elementary School in San Jose de Buenavista,” Tolentino said.

He said the local government units (LGUs) provided assistance to the affected families.

Further, classes remained suspended in 17 LGUs while classes resumed in the town of Tobias Fornier due to improving weather conditions.

The suspended in-person classes from pre-school to senior high school were in San Jose de Buenavista, Hamtic, Pandan, Barbaza, Tibiao, Culasi, Caluya, Sibalom, San Remigio, and Libertad and all levels in Laua-an, Valderrama, Sebaste, Belison, Patnongon, Anini-y, and Bugasong. (PNA)

P33-M grant to assess viability of BRT system in Iloilo, Guimaras

ILOILO CITY – The Metro Iloilo-Guimaras Economic Development Council (MIGEDC) and Sweden on Tuesday formalized an agreement for a PHP33-million grant from Swedfund International for a feasibility study to determine the viability of establishing a bus rapid transport (BRT) system in Metro Iloilo and Guimaras.

The agreement was signed by Iloilo City acting

Mayor Jeffrey Ganson on behalf of MIGEDC chairperson, Mayor Jerry Treñas, and Harald Fries, Chargé d'affaires of the Swedish Embassy.

Johan Lennefalk, Trade Commissioner to the Philippines; Giselle Yap, Senior Trade Promotions Officer of the Embassy of Sweden; and Mae Balandan, Consultant from Business Sweden, witnessed the agreement signing at the City Mayor's Office.

The study will include technical assessments, financial projections, and environmental and social impact analyses to ensure the proposed system is sustainable and beneficial to the local community.

In an interview, Fries said the assistance was an offshoot of the visit of former Ambassador Annika Thunborg in March 2023 when she met representatives from Iloilo to discuss possible business partnerships.

“It was clear to her that Iloilo was a very good partner in terms of being a business-friendly, progressive, safe city. She saw that there was a good opportunity for partnership here. In the discussions, it was clear that the urban transportation situation was an area, which was identified here as a priority and where Sweden could offer support,” he added.

Iloilo City is the first local government unit in the country chosen for the grant under Swedfund International.

Ganson said the assistance will help reshape the landscape of Metro Iloilo to be better prepared for the future.

“This is a great help for the city, considering that they have this feasibility study intended to be implemented in a strategic area. I think they have enough consultants to see to it that it is doable. We are grateful to the Swedish government for deciding to implement it first in Iloilo City,” he said.

MIGEDC executive director Velma Jane Lao, meanwhile, said the feasibility study would be a “big help” in attracting

Literacy as a way of life

Editorial

The Global Media and Information Literacy Week is an annual commemoration held October 24-31. Its aim is to raise awareness of and to celebrate the progress achieved toward MIL for all.

UNESCO is spearheading the celebrations to enable people to engage critically with information, navigate the online environment safely and responsibly, and ensure that there can be trust in information ecosystems and in digital technologies.

It added that MIL provides a set of essential skills to address the challenges of the 21st century, including the proliferation of mis- and disinformation, hate speech, the decline of trust in media, and digital innovations notably Artificial Intelligence.

Here in the Philippines, MIL also refers to a subject taught in Senior High School that “introduces the learners to basic understanding of media and information as channels of communication and tools for the development of individuals and societies.

It also aims to develop students to be creative and critical thinkers as well as responsible users and competent producers of media and information.”

Unfortunately, the manner of delivery of this course varies greatly, and there are no guarantees that any Grade 11 or Grade 12 student will graduate from high school completely literate in media and information. And then, there are the students’ immediate surroundings – families, teachers, and communities – who themselves may not enjoy the desired level of literacy when it comes to processing what they see online.

No one, not even professionals or the highly schooled, is completely safe from being misled or downright duped. MIL has come to be a fixture and a necessity in people’s lives whether they are aware of it or not.

The ease with which information flows and is shared has threatened people’s ability to discern what is true from false. Many continue to be duped by what they see online, accepting it as gospel truth without even bothering to ensure its veracity, and then acting on and making decisions based on the disinformation. Sometimes, too, because of our illiteracy, we fall victim to financial predators or compromise our own security and privacy.

This became a problem in recent years, including the pandemic and the controversial campaign for the 2022 elections. As we plod through our problems as a nation, approach another electoral exercise, and grapple with recent technologies and what they could potentially do to our society, it is good to ponder exactly how literate we are. And then aim higher.

We understand that local governments and schools have their own MIL Week celebrations, but as in all other events, there is an entire year to actualize its objectives. MIL is best lived and practiced every day, with every encounter with pieces of information, using a mindset that immediately questions and verifies, and refuses to take anything at face value. ## ‘New normal’ storms

Over a hundred people have been reported dead following the recent devastation caused by Severe Tropical Storm Kristine (international name Trami)—a blunt reminder that despite the many technological advancements in today’s modern society, our country remains highly vulnerable to natural disasters that, if largely ignored, will only worsen over time.

The onslaught of Kristine is an eyeopener that this could be the ‘new normal’ in terms of natural disasters—stronger storms packed with heavy rains that causes flooding for days, and gusty winds that can easily topple trees and other structures.

In the case of Kristine, several areas for the first time reported unprecedented rainfall and damage from strong winds that led to extensive flooding, loss of life, destruction of property, and significant damage to infrastructure and agriculture, among others.

Initial estimates of the government peg agricultural losses and infrastructure damage to at least PHP3 billion in the Bicol region alone. At least 80 cities and towns have been placed under a state of calamity due to the widespread damage caused by the storm. These are all major national setbacks that have a ripple effect on our economy.

While it is worth noting that there are significant improvements in both national and local disaster preparedness and response protocols, the extensive damage caused by Kristine highlight the pressing need to further enhance disaster preparedness, not just disaster response.

After all, it has long been a well-established fact that the Philippines is among the most disaster-prone nations with an average of 20 storms hitting the country per year. This alone should strengthen our resolve not only to improve disaster preparedness measures but to innovate as well to make our communities climate-adaptive and not just resilient.

A study by the United Nations Office for Disaster Risk Reduction shows that for every USD1 invested in disaster preparedness, USD7 will be saved from cleanup and recovery. This proves that strengthening our disaster preparedness does not only save lives but also preserves economic stability.

Enhancing our social infrastructures to make these climate-adaptive can save communities from the unending cycle of recovery and rebuilding from natural disasters.

For example, with more climate-adaptive communities, funds used for relief operations can be reallocated to more long-term disaster preparedness and response programs.

This starts with strengthening our government’s disaster risk mapping capability and continuously updating this, to ensure that communities identified as highly vulnerable to natural calamities can be properly and sufficiently equipped with the resources they need.

Increased transparency in the implementation of disaster preparedness projects such as flood control can also build public confidence that they can rely on the government to act to control if not prevent flooding.

In the case of Kristine for example, we’ve seen news

ESPRESSO MORNINGS

By JOE ZALDARRIAGA

reports of communities describing last week’s floods as unprecedented and how evacuation and rescue operations in some areas were slowed by the lack of tools such as boats.

As the first responders in times of calamities, local government units (LGUs) should be further empowered with the tools they need for disaster preparedness so they can save as many lives as possible.

Partnerships with the private sector are also beneficial in improving disaster preparedness given that this sector has always been among the first to respond to calls for support in times of calamities.

In the case of Kristine for example, the private sector quickly augmented relief goods and provided support for disaster-hit communities. The One Meralco Foundation for example immediately sent relief goods and solar lamps to the Bicol region—parts of which are still awaiting for power restoration.

As many communities reel from the devastation left by Kristine, may we use the lessons from this storm to push for long-term solutions and programs that would make our communities climate-adaptive and not just reactive.

Severe weather conditions may be the ‘new normal’ but the devastation our communities experience doesn’t have to be. The time to act is now.

Cebu Pacific Expands Network with Inaugural Manila-Chiang Mai Flights

Cebu Pacific (PSE: CEB), the Philippines' leading carrier, inaugurated on October 29 its direct flights from Manila to Chiang Mai, offering more Juans a seamless and affordable way to visit the mountainous region of northern Thailand.

The Manila-Chiang Mai flights will operate three times weekly — every Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday.

CEB — which is the only carrier in the Philippines that offers direct flights to Chiang Mai — celebrated the launch with an event at the Ninoy Aquino International Airport, attended by His Excellency Mr. Tull Traisorat, the Ambassador of the Kingdom of Thailand to the Philippines, and Ms. Yatika Kaewborisoot, Director of the Tourism Authority of Thailand (TAT).

In his speech during the event, CEB President and Chief Commercial Officer Xander Lao highlighted the airline's commitment to offering passengers more opportunities to explore the country and the world.

"For years, Cebu Pacific has been dedicated to connecting Filipinos not only to essential destinations, but also to popular places that were previously difficult to reach. More than adding to Cebu Pacific's growing network, the launch of the Manila-Chiang Mai also serves as a testament to Cebu Pacific's commitment to making air travel more accessible for every Juan," he added.

With the launch of this route, travelers will now enjoy a shorter and more efficient journey to Chiang Mai — cutting up to 8 hours of the passenger's travel time. Travelers will also save up to 64% on their flight costs with our direct service.

As direct flights between Manila and Chiang Mai begin, more Filipino travelers will now experience the popular Lantern Festival every November, take home renowned Thai handicrafts, and visit the Wat Phra That Doi Suthep — one of the most venerated temples in Chiang Mai.

To commemorate the event, passengers of the maiden flight were treated to Thai snacks and other travel essentials from TAT prior to boarding their flight.

CEB operates in 35 domestic and 26 international destinations spread across Asia, Australia, and the Middle East.

CRAFTING STORIES FROM NATURE WITH 'KWENTONG KAHOY'

The Cultural Center of the Philippines (CCP), in a renewed partnership with Arthaland, is set to unveil "Kwentong Kahoy," an exhibition highlighting the wonders of artmaking with wood, featuring selected artworks from the CCP 21st Century Art Museum (21AM) Collection, from October 30 to December 2, 2024, at the Sevina Park Pavilion in Biñan, Laguna.

"Kwentong Kahoy" aims to introduce the public to the diverse forms of art created with wood, showcasing its adaptability and rich cultural significance. It offers an educational insight into the craftsmanship and creativity involved in wood art by exploring different techniques, such as carving and relief printing.

Wood has always played an integral role in human civilization, serving as both an artistic medium and a utilitarian object in our society. As the third collaborative project between the premiere arts institution and one of the most environmentally-conscious corporations, "Kwentong Kahoy" is geared towards encouraging appreciation for, and discovery of social, cultural, artistic, and environmental values from its exhibition.

With the ongoing rehabilitation of the CCP Main Building, the CCP has been proactive in bringing the message of arts and culture closer to the Filipino people, catering to wider audiences in the regions and other parts of the Philippines.

"For the past 55 years, the CCP has been a strong advocate for a dynamic artistic landscape in the Philippines. Art is a multifaceted treasure that reflects the rich tapestry of the human experience, and sustaining this vibrant landscape presents challenges. It requires not just patriotism, but also immense dedication. Having strong partners and good allies are essential to our success as well," says CCP President Kaye Tinga.

Following Arthaland's successful hosting of the collection in Arthaland Century Pacific Tower — the world's first EDGE Zero

Carbon certified project, and Cebu Exchange — the largest multi-certified sustainable office tower in the Philippines, the exhibition now moves to Sevina Park which holds the distinction of being the first and only development in Southeast Asia to achieve Platinum certification under the LEED for Neighborhood Development and LEED for Homes categories and the very first to receive the BERDE Districts 5-Star rating. This 8.1-hectare mixed-use development that boasts over 60% green and open spaces is envisioned to become a sustainable, close-knit community that lowers global carbon emissions, improves air quality, reduces electricity “Barangay Durog is an island in the middle of the Sibalom River. That is why the families have already preemptively evacuated for their safety,” Train said.

Train added that roads from Antique to Iloilo and from Anini-y, the southernmost town of Antique, to Libertad in the north are still passable to commuters.

A total of 17 local government units (LGUs) suspended in-person classes as of Tuesday noon, based on data from the Department of Education (DepEd) Schools

Hexa appoints Globe Telecom as Landing Party in Davao

Hexa Capital Consultancy PLT (“Hexa”), owner of the Malaysia-U.S. (“MYUS”) cable based in Malaysia, appointed Globe Telecom, Inc. as its Philippine Landing Party for the MYUS cable system.

The MYUS cable is being planned with a ready-for-service date of mid-2028 and will connect Malaysia and the U.S. directly for the first time with high-capacity fiber optic connectivity, increasing access to reliable and affordable digital services across Southeast Asia. The cable backbone will extend between the Malaysian Peninsula near Sedili to Davao, Philippines, the U.S territory of Guam and then directly onward to Alaska Communications’ cable landing station in Florence, Oregon. Along the path, MYUS will also connect Batam, Jakarta and Balikpapan in Indonesia.

Globe’s cable landing station in Davao will serve as a crucial interconnection point for the project.

“The MYUS cable is being designed specifically to provide trusted and reliable direct fiber connectivity between these locations for large hyperscaler, cloud, content, telecom carriers and government customers,” according to Dr. Azhari Abang Hadari, the Founder and CEO of Hexa.

“MYUS customers can be confident in the route design because it avoids the problems plagued by other existing undersea cables that transit contested waters in Southeast Asia. The MYUS Network provides efficient routing for the lowest possible latency, and uses well-known, well-proven cable landing sites that have excellent up-time performance as well as widely available backhaul options for Hexa’s fiber pair owners,” added Dr. Azhari. “Globe Telecom was our top choice when we evaluated strategic partnerships in the Indo-Pacific Region, with their long history of stable high-performance fiber optic network and the new PDSCN domestic Philippines fiber system connecting major enterprises and data centers throughout the country.”

“We look forward to a long-term relationship hosting MYUS at our premier landing station in Davao. Our cable landing facilities offer diverse route connectivity to global and regional carriers. The access to customers utilizing our robust state-of-the-art network should give confidence to operators looking to interconnect with domestic and international constituents. Davao is a critical hub for subsea fiber optic cables, which are the backbone of today’s internet,” said KD Dizon, Head of Globe Business

MYUS will be an open cable with 16 fiber pairs along its backbone. Hexa’s business model is to sell fiber pairs to long-term owners who will demand reliability, resilience and high cable performance to support their business growth. Hexa’s selection of Globe as a partner builds on its strategy of planning globally and locally with strong, proven and capable operators that can exceed the requirements of the most demanding customers.

The Hexa team met with customers and partners at the Submarine Networks World conference in Singapore (SNW 2024, 25-26 Sep.) and looks forward to creating opportunities with many more in the coming months.
