No extension of deadline on underground cabling: lloilo City mayor

UNDERGROUND CABLING. The Iloilo City government continues to implement the underground distribution system along Calle Real, the city's historic old business district. In a statement on Wednesday (Dec. 25, 2024), Mayor Jerry Treñas reiterated the call for providers of internet services and other utilities to place their wires underground, especially since the underground cabling is ongoing at the Calle Real. (File photo from Jerry Treñas FB page)

ILOILO CITY – The city government reiterated the call for providers of internet services and other utilities to place their wires underground, saying the deadline for compliance with the ordinance, which is at the end of this month, would not be extended.

Mayor Jerry Treñas said on Wednesday it has come to his attention that some contractors of Philippine Long Distance Telephone Company (PLDT) pointed to his office as a reason for their lack of cable and internet services.

"The ordinance requiring all utility wires to be placed underground was passed in 2023, and this mandate applies to all utility providers operating in Iloilo City. For the past year, the city government has been implementing this ordinance, particularly with the ongoing underground cabling project along Calle Real," Treñas said.

He said contractors were given sufficient time to comply with the requirement, yet they failed to take action. Instead of taking responsibility for what happened, they "unfairly shift the blame to the city government."

"It is unjust and unacceptable for the contractors to fault the city mayor for their own negligence and failure to comply with a legally mandated ordinance. We will not allow baseless accusations to derail this progress. I am issuing this strong reminder to all telecommunications companies regarding the deadline set for Dec. 16, 2024, to take down their wires and poles along Calle Real," he added.

Treñas said the ongoing underground cabling project is aimed at enhancing the aesthetics and preserving the heritage of the iconic street.

The mayor added that he has extended the deadline from Dec. 16 to the end of the month upon the requests of PLDT, Cable Star, and Globe, but it will already be the final extension.

of legitimate land ownership that beneficiaries can pass on to future generations.

In addition to CoCRoMs, 479 titles for 473.97 hectares were granted to 351 ARBs under the Newlands project.

Meanwhile, 1,100 electronic titles covering 879.98 hectares were also distributed to 710 ARBs under the Support to Parcelization of Lands to Individual Titling project.

Barotac Nuevo farmer Pura Barquila expressed gratitude, saying the condonation would allow them to invest in land cultivation rather than paying amortization.

Iloilo Governor Arthur Defensor Jr. highlighted the critical role of ARBs as pillars of agriculture and the economy, noting that government support for agriculture would be channeled through agrarian reform communities, which also serve as hubs for barangay-based agro-tourism programs.

Also present in the event were DAR Asst. Secretary Quintin Magsico, Cavite Congresswoman Lani Mercado-Revilla representing her husband Senator Ramon "Bong" Revilla, Jr., DAR 6 Regional Director Leomides Villareal, Fourth District Congressman Ferjenel Biron, Anilao Mayor Lee Ann Debuque and other DAR regional and provincial officials. "We have the same struggle as college students at the University of Antique (UA) coming from hard up families," she said.

Mandia said there are three siblings in their family and her parents have no stable jobs to support their studies. But because of the EAP, she was able to finish her Bachelor of Science in Criminology course.

She said the PHP6,000 she received per semester helped her support her school needs and pay for her transportation in going to school daily from their house in this municipality to UA in the adjacent Sibalom town for the past four years.

Meanwhile, Galindo said the increase of the EAP benefit to PHP10,000 by next year would go a long way in helping other students coming from NEW / page 34

Currently, there are 29 evacuation centers in Negros Island, along with 10 family tents set up in La Carlota City. However, as residents may need to remain in evacuation centers until after the New Year, the OCD official appealed for more diverse food choices and recreational and educational materials for children.

"Based on the assessment of Phivolcs, there's still a huge possibility of an explosive eruption anytime. This is based on the volcanic activity that is ongoing, including volcanic earthquakes," Fernandez stated.

Meanwhile, he mentioned that passes are being issued to evacuees who need to temporarily check on their homes and properties.

Tribu Tatusan primarily composed of students from Caluya National High School and the University of Antique (UA) Caluya campus, were selected through a screening process in late October. Despite being beginners, the dancers showed adaptability and cooperation, balancing their training with academic responsibilities.

Tribes choreographer Michael Apiladas, shared the challenges and adjustments they faced this year. "In terms of preparations, medyo lain kadya ang approach ka Binirayan due to changes sa guidelines. Duro ang mga adjustments namun unlike sa naanadan namun nga years. Despite of that, nag-adapt gid kami. Rules are rules, amo ra nag-prepare gid kami," he explained. Apiladas attributed their success to the unwavering support of the Local Government Unit (LGU) of Caluya and municipal officials, who ensured the tribe's needs-from production and manpower to medical assistance-were addressed. "That's why our preparations went smoothly because everything was well taken care of by LGU Caluya," he added.

Tribu Tatusan's last participation was in the virtual Malay-Ati competition in 2021. The tribe abstained from joining in 2022 and 2023, but their comeback for the golden celebration of the Binirayan Festival proved triumphant.

Meanwhile, Rey A. Peñaflorida, the tribe's manager and tourism officer of Caluva, spoke about the logistical challenges they encountered, particularly with sea travel.

"Siguro ang struggles lang gid namun ang sea travel hay parehas kadya, ga-worry kami kung may mismong travel pabalik because of the waves man," Peñaflorida explained.

Despite the hurdles, Peñaflorida emphasized that their primary goal goes beyond winning prizes.

"First and foremost, wara man kami naga-after sa price though nag-increase kadya, hindi man tana ka-bayad sa amon gastos. Amo lang ra ang pagparticipate namun, ang pagpakita ka talento kang mga bata, kag ma-pakita man namun kung ano ang may dyan sa amon banwa," he added.

In addition to clinching the championship, Tribu Tatusan garnered several awards, including Best in Cultural Promotion, Best in Choreography, Best in Performance, Best in Music, and Best in Production Design.

As they look ahead, Tribu Tatusan is determined to refine their performances further to ensure that their legacy as champions remains unshaken in the years to come. (Antique News Updates)

Metro Pacific Iloilo Water to invest P1-B in service upgrades in 2025

ILOILO CITY – Metro Pacific Iloilo Water (MPIW) is setting the stage for major infrastructure and service upgrades, announcing a PHP1 billion investment in 2025.

This move follows the successful completion of PHP235 million worth of projects this year.

"We have invested more for this year. We will be investing more for the next year. Imagine PHP1 billion worth of projects for the next year," MPIW Engineering Department head Jerry Guillergan said in a media interview on Friday.

A major initiative for 2025 includes the establishment of a central monitoring system to enable real-time tracking of water resources, pressure, and distribution. This system will allow MPIW to identify areas with supply issues, ensuring balanced and efficient distribution of water.

"We will know which area has a low supply and which area has oversupply so we can equal water distribution," he added.

Service expansion plans for 2025 will cover Pavia and the districts of Molo, Mandurriao, and Jaro in Iloilo City.

This includes Phase 2 of hydraulic system pipe replacements in Jaro and additional upgrades in Molo, such as the installation of a desalination primary line.

Meanwhile, service improvements will address acute gastroenteritis concerns in densely populated areas like Barangay Sinikway, Rizal St., Bo. Obrero, and Mansaya in Lapuz, where water access is currently limited.

"The area is densely populated, and their comfort rooms are not good. We will improve the water services because they have no source of water," he added.

In the meantime, Guillergan said the PHP235 million completed projects were still on service expansion, service improvement as well as non-water revenue reduction.

Already completed are the three service expansion projects, two asset replacement projects, Sahara leak detection activity, and retrofitting of the Carpenter's Bridge.

Four other projects are still ongoing. (PNA)

ROXAS CITY, Capiz (PIA)– The Office of the Presidential Adviser on Peace, Reconciliation and Unity (OPAPRU) called on universities and communities in Western Visayas to help end the insurgency during the media orientation in partnership with the Philippine Information Agency (PIA) Region 6 at the Grand Xing Imperial Hotel in Iloilo City.

City gov't urges parental vigilance, curfew compliance for minors

ILOILO CITY - The local government has urged parents and guardians to ensure minors comply with curfew regulations, highlighting the importance of vigilance amid recent youth-related incidents during restricted hours.

Mayor Jerry Treñas on Thursday expressed concern over altercations and stabbing incidents reported in La Paz and Molo districts, which occurred during curfew hours.

"These incidents are reminders of the pressing need for all of us - parents, barangay officials, and the entire city - to take active roles in guiding and protecting our children. It is our shared responsibility to keep them safe and prevent their involvement in activities that may lead to harm," Treñas said in a statement.

He urged barangay officials to step up their patrols and maintain close coordination with the Iloilo City Police Office (ICPO) to strengthen the enforcement of the city's curfew ordinance.

Maj. Shella Mae Sangrines, ICPO spokesperson, emphasized the need for collaborative efforts to address juvenile delinquency and ensure public safety.

"The incidents highlight the urgency for stricter implementation of curfew rules. City regulations prohibit minors from being in public places between 10 p.m. and 4 a.m. unless accompanied by a responsible adult," she noted.

ICPO director Col. Kim Legada directed police units to rigorously enforce curfew rules, stressing that minors found unsupervised would be referred to the Department of Social Welfare and Development (DSWD) for intervention.

Records showed that the first stabbing incident was on Dec. 17 in La Paz district, involving a 14-year-old victim.

He was on his way home with his friends when a group of minors chased them. The victim was stabbed in his back by one of the minors.

The second incident happened on Wednesday at around 5:30 a.m. when a 16-year-old boy, while waiting for his friend, after a Mass at Molo Plaza, was approached by an unidentified suspect and stabbed him.

Both victims are out of danger.

"The recent incidents involving minors are deeply concerning. We urge parents, community leaders, and

Aboitiz InfraCapital (AIC) welcomed members of the Department of Trade and Industry's (DTI's) Foreign Trade Service Corps last December 8 to 10, hosting them at a symposium and asset tour of various AIC assets in Cebu, namely Mactan Economic Zone 2 (MEZ2) Estate in Lapu-Lapu City, West Cebu Estate in Balamban, and Mactan-Cebu International Airport, also in Lapu-Lapu City.

Aboitiz InfraCapital hosts key DTI foreign trade executives in Cebu

Ranking members of the Department of Trade and Industry's Foreign Trade Service Corps (FTSC) recently enhanced their infrastructure investment knowledge and expertise at a recent 2-day comprehensive symposium and asset tour in Cebu spearheaded by Aboitiz InfraCapital, Inc. (AIC), the infrastructure arm of the Aboitiz Group.

Co-hosted by AIC Economic Estates (operator of Mactan Economic Zone 2 [MEZ2] Estate in Lapu-Lapu City and West Cebu Estate [WCE] in Balamban) and Aboitiz InfraCapital Cebu Airport Corporation (operator of the award-winning Mactan-Cebu International Airport [MCIA]), the symposium dubbed "AIC Conversations" gave FTSC members key insights on the management and operations of industrial estates and airports. Aside from touring these AIC sites, they also conducted regional consultations with local private and public stakeholders from the business and trade sectors.

"Through initiatives like 'AIC Conversations,' we aim to foster meaningful partnerships and showcase the vital role of infrastructure in enabling trade and investments," said AIC First Vice President and Head of Corporate Affairs Christopher M. Camba.

"By highlighting the synergy between AIC Economic Estates and the Mactan-Cebu International Airport, we demonstrate how AIC continues to drive economic growth and create opportunities for local and global businesses alike," added AIC President & CEO Cosette V. Canilao.

abroad and ensure the Philippines is wellpositioned globally for trade, tourism, and investments.

Together with DTI, AIC is at the forefront in driving regional development across the country by creating opportunities that are more accessible to more Filipinos, especially in and near MEZ2 Estate, WCE, and MCIA.

MEZ2 Estate is a 63-hectare Philippine Economic Zone Authority (PEZA)-registered mixed-use development in Lapu-Lapu City operated in partnership with the Mactan-Cebu International Airport Authority. MEZ2 Estate hosts various companies involved in light to medium manufacturing for the local and export markets, packaging, industrial logistics & warehousing, among others.

WCE, on the other hand, is a 540-hectare PEZA-registered collaboration between the Aboitiz Group and Japan's Tsuneishi Holdings and is dubbed the "Shipbuilding Capital of the Philippines."

Together, MEZ2 Estate and West Cebu Estate are home to almost 60 locators and approximately 28,000 employees, providing access to key complementary systems such as Mactan EnerZone, Aboitiz Construction, PEZA & Bureau of Customs One-Stop-Shop, The Outlets at Pueblo Verde, Pueblo Verde, iMEZ for MEZ2 Estate, and to West Cebu Estate Water, Balamban EnerZone, West Cebu Exchange, and Foressa Mountain Town for WCE.

These locations are accessible via MCIA in Lapu-Lapu City-the Philippines' largest international aviation hub outside of Metro Manila, the country's second-busiest gateway, and a leading sustainable airport in the country. Human empowerment key to 1st class classification of Antique

SAN JOSE DE BUENAVISTA, Antique -The reclassification of Antique into a first-class province was due to human empowerment programs implemented by the provincial government.

From being one of the poorest provinces in the country, Antique has been reclassified into a first-class province by the Department of Finance, Governor Rhodora J. Cadiao said in her message during the Local Social Welfare and Development Officers Yearend Assessment and Awarding of Champions 2024 at Kanyogan Garden and Restaurant in San Jose de Buenavista on Tuesday.

"Antique in 2016, when I first assumed as governor, was among the poorest provinces in the country," Cadiao said.

She said her administration prioritized human empowerment programs such as a scholarship program.

The province's 20,000 college and graduate school scholars, receive PHP6,000 financial assistance each per semester.

The Kabalaka kay Lolo kag Lola (Concern of the Provincial Government to Grandparents) program that provides yearly economic assistance ranging from PHP3,000 to PHP5,000 for senior citizens aged 85 to 99, and PHP30,000 for centenarians has also been a big help.

"The sacada or sugar migrants have been registered with the Department of Labor and Employment (DOLE) so they could also be beneficiaries of the national government support," Cadiao said.

Entered as second class mail matter at the Iloilo City Post Office on October 5, 1988 with General Circulation in the Philippines Clad in a black t-shirt and clutching a neck pillow she could conveniently use during her flight home to the Philippines, drug convict Mary Jane Veloso was transferred to a Jakarta prison from Yogyakarta. Arrested in 2010 for carrying 2.6 kg of heroin in an Indonesian airport, Veloso had been on death row for more than 14 years.

In fact, she narrowly escaped the firing squad in 2015, spared only by a last-minute reprieve.

But now, no less than Indonesia Immigration at Corrections Deputy Coordinator Nyoman Gede Surya Mataram confirmed that Veloso would indeed be home today, Dec. 18.

Representatives of the Department of Foreign Affairs, Bureau of Corrections, and the National Bureau of Investigation have flown to Indonesia to make the final transfer arrangements for Veloso.

Veloso hails from a family of overseas Filipino workers, some of whom still contemplated working abroad even after her arrest. We can imagine the elation felt by Veloso's family, especially her children, who were merely one and six years old when their mother was arrested.

she arrives, but at least she would be closer to her loved ones. There is no word on how close she could be to actual freedom even as it has been demonstrated that she was only a victim of trafficking and was duped into being a drug courier.

Her homecoming at Christmas comes as bittersweet - she will not be a free woman when

Thus, barring any other unforeseen circumstances, Veloso would land on Philippine soil today.

She had lost all hope, Veloso told the Associated Press in an interview, where she likened her homecoming to a miracle.

It turns out miracles could happen, even as one could look at them as the result of a series of fortuitous events that merely served to correct a wrong. Miracles are the exception and not the rule, so we cannot rely on miracles while living in a society plagued with ills. Ills like, millions of Filipinos feeling like they have no other option for a better life except to expose themselves to Veloso only rose to prominence because of her death conviction – how many more find themselves in desperate situations without their countrymen ever learning of their predicament and clamoring for action? Veloso's story is not unique by all means. Filipino workers desperate for work would embrace any opportunity and trust others easily. They would not find the wherewithal to be critical of any offers, if only to protect themselves.

Veloso's homecoming should be a powerful reminder that we still owe the majority our people economic security. May our leaders think less of their political squabbles and potential gains from funds entrusted to them, and instead work toward ensuring the unfortunate events that preceded this "miracle" would no longer be repeated. Compassion for the elderly this Christmas

ESPRESSO MORNINGS

For many, Christmas is deemed the most wonderful time of the year—a season of joy, love, and celebration. But while many are basking in the joy of the holidays, for some, this season serves as a reminder of loneliness, isolation, and neglect.

Just recently, Senior Citizens Partylist Rep. Rodolfo "Ompong" Ordanes made a compassionate appeal for elderly persons deprived of liberty (PDLs)—an oftenoverlooked group—so they can receive better state support, especially during this time of the year.

Given the heightened vulnerability of incarcerated senior citizens, Rep. Ordanes appealed to the Department of Social Welfare and Development (DSWD) to work with the Department of Justice (DOJ), Bureau of Jail Management and Penology (BJMP), and the Bureau of Corrections (BOC) so that elderly PDLs can receive senior citizen benefits.

Among the benefits that Rep. Ordanes is appealing for are their pension payouts and registration with state health insurer PhilHealth. The elderly lawmaker also appealed to local government units (LGUs) to extend allowances to senior citizens in jail.

As Rep. Ordanes mentioned in his statement: "Our laws on senior citizens' welfare do not distinguish nor discriminate against elderly PDLs. But because elderly PDLs are out of sight, it would not be surprising that they are out of mind when it comes to aid programs and benefits."

While huge strides have been made in terms of improving state support for the elderly Filipino population, much still needs to be done to ensure that holistic assistance is extended to every senior citizen—including those who are incarcerated.

As a senior citizen myself, I support this call for inclusive state support for all elderly Filipinos, even those in jail. It is not just a matter of social justice but also of compassion and moral responsibility that we extend the same support to elderly PDLs that we would offer seniors in the community.

It must be emphasized that senior citizens in the prison system are a unique population with specific needs. With aging generally associated with a decline in physical health, many elderly PDLs require additional medical care and support compared to others in the prison system. This is why more than financial support, LGUs should ensure that elderly PDLs have access to medical care such as health examinations and medicine.

All these contribute to a holistic support mechanism so that seniors in the prison system can live their final years with dignity. Moreover, this also helps prepare elderly PDLs for possible reintegration to society when they are granted parole, pardon, executive clemency, or released because of the Good Conduct Time Allowance. Often, the President grants parole, pardon, or executive clemency at the end of the year, and including elderly PDLs in social welfare programs is one way of providing them with a safety net so they can re-enter society and live the rest of their lives with dignity.

This Christmas, let us extend our hearts and show compassion to the elderly, whether they are in our homes or in prisons. Their lives matter and their well-being matters. All senior citizens—including those who are incarcerated—deserve to be treated with respect and compassion.

Reflecting on broader societal issues, may this season inspire each one of us to advocate for meaningful change and work towards a more inclusive society that values the elderly and their contributions to society.

And as we celebrate with our families and loved ones this holiday season, let us not forget our elderly population—especially those who are in highly vulnerable circumstances. May the love and compassion that we spread this Christmas go beyond our immediate circles and extend to those who truly need it.

The empty chair at our Christmas table

It's Christmas and many people are rushing home to be with their loved ones. Simple or grand, the Christmas dinner or meal is a time for reconnecting with family or friends. For most Filipinos, family is everything. Nothing beats the joy of Christmas gatherings where everyone can catch up and spread that unique Christmas cheer. Unfortunately, for some families or individuals, Christmas can also be a time of grief or pain. For some who have just recently lost a loved one, this Christmas would be a first Christmas without the said loved one.

There are many practices and traditions around the world which help families and people deal with this particular Christmas grief. In some western countries, a chair is left empty during Christmas dinner to honor and remember recently departed loved ones. The family gives a toast to the loved ones and then share stories about them. They also leave food reserved for the departed. In some llocano families such as ours, the ritual of leaving food for the dead in a particular altar during celebrations, including Christmas, is still practiced. The ritual is called Atang and is practiced both to appease and honor the recently departed. In other societies, the empty chair is used as a therapy method for those left behind. They are encouraged to speak with their loved ones through the empty chair and say things left unsaid.

In our family, we will have both an empty chair and some Atang for my mother who passed away this year. Celebrating Christmas for the first time without a loved one is a painful experience. I am sure that there are several of you out there experiencing the same thing this Christmas. For us, Christmas is a complicated time with conflicting emotions swirling inside us. We should not however feel stressed that we do not feel the same way about Christmas anymore. It is normal to feel grief as we look at the empty chairs at our Christmas tables. Let this grief, however, not define us this Christmas. Rather, let us realize that we must make the most of every Christmas with the ones we have left. Let us reach out to people and family. There are many things that may divide family and friends these times. Politics and ideology have seemingly set people apart these days. Let grief and joy be a common thread that bring us together this Christmas. Let us not wait for more empty chairs before we reach out.

Merry Christmas everyone.

Alternative Learning System: Opportunities for marginalized Filipinos

Twenty years ago, the Philippines instituted the Alternative Learning System (ALS) to address the growing number of out-of-school children, youth, and adults (OSCYA) who lacked access to formal education. This initiative responded to concerning trends in the Philippines, such as the decline in literacy rates among 15-24-year-olds from 96.6 percent in 1990 to 95.1 percent in 2000 and further to 94.8 percent in 2008. Additionally, data from November 1994 showed that 3.8 million, or 14.1 percent, of children and youth aged 7-24 were out of school.

The ALS traces its origins to 2004, a groundbreaking initiative of the Department of Education (DepEd), which aimed to address the pressing issue of OSCYA. Recognizing that formal education was inaccessible to millions due to poverty, geographical barriers, and other socioeconomic challenges, ALS emerged as a beacon of hope for those left behind by the traditional school system. Designed as a flexible, learnercentered program, it provided basic education through nonformal means, specifically catering to Filipinos unable to attend regular classes.

ALS, a global movement, aims to promote inclusive education through initiatives like the Education for All (EFA) goals and the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). Even before the Covid-19 pandemic, the World Bank said there were already 258 million schoolage children and adolescents not attending school across the world, and 781 million adults were unable to read or write in any language. The United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) spearheaded the Education for All framework in 1990, emphasizing the importance of providing education opportunities for marginalized populations, including the OSCYA. Similarly, the SDGs, particularly Goal 4, emphasized ensuring inclusive and equitable quality education and promoting lifelong learning opportunities for all. These global commitments inspired and reinforced our government's efforts to create and institutionalize the ALS, aligning local strategies with international standards to address education gaps and promote social equity.

with essential literacy, numeracy, and life skills that could empower them to participate meaningfully in society and the workforce.

Over the years, ALS evolved and expanded, responding to the diverse needs of its learners. It incorporated modules tailored to various age groups and learning levels, including indigenous peoples, ensuring inclusivity and relevance. By providing equivalency programs that allowed learners to obtain elementary and secondary-level certifications, ALS became a viable alternative for many who had abandoned hope of ever completing their education. It also emphasized practical skills development, enabling its graduates to transition to technicalvocational training or employment.

The culmination of ALS's journey came in 2020, with the passage of Republic Act No. 11510, also known as the Alternative Learning System Act. This landmark legislation institutionalized ALS, ensuring its sustainability and integration into the country's education framework. The law mandated increased funding, professionalization of ALS teachers, and the establishment of community learning centers nationwide. Its objectives were clear: to provide accessible, inclusive, and quality education to all learners, particularly the marginalized, and to uphold with high poverty rates, with 18.1 percent of the population living below the poverty threshold as of 2021. In 2022, estimates placed the number of out-of-school youth at 3.6 million, highlighting the ongoing relevance of ALS.

Unfortunately, the 2nd Congressional Commission on Education (EDCOM 2) has raised significant concerns about the effectiveness of the ALS Act (RA 11510), which has been in effect for more than three-and-a-half years. According to the EDCOM 2, despite its passage, many provisions of the law remain unimplemented, and challenges related to funding, budget allocation, lack of support for ALS learners, and the gap between enrollment and completion rates in ALS programs continue to impede its success.

According to the DepEd, about 600,000 learners enroll in ALS annually, with the majority opting for the Accreditation and Equivalency (A&E) Secondary Program. However, there is a notable gap between enrollment and program completion. For instance, only 302,807 of the 655,517 enrollees successfully completed the program in the 2023-2024 school year. Although ALS enrollment figures have grown by 1.5 times annually, this increase is far from addressing the "estimated 5 million out-of-school youth aged 17 to 24." The ALS program currently enrolls just 224,885 learners, accounting for a mere 9 percent of the estimated out-of-school youth population, according to recent statistics. This prompted Senator Sherwin Gatchalian, author of the ALS Act, to state that proper implementation of the law is essential for the program to succeed. Filipinos place immense value on education, viewing it as the key to unlocking opportunities and improving their quality of life. In a nation where poverty continues to be a significant challenge, Filipinos understand that education is the most reliable path out of hardship. It provides individuals with the knowledge and skills to secure better job prospects, elevate their living conditions, and break the cycle of poverty. Despite the challenges facing ALS, its journey from a pioneering initiative to an institutionalized program enshrined in law stands as a testament to the country's commitment to inclusive education. It embodies the principle that learning should be accessible to all, regardless of age, socioeconomic status, or circumstance.

The intertwined realities of economic hardship and limited access to education perpetuated a cycle of poverty, leaving countless individuals unable to secure better livelihoods. ALS offered a pathway to break this cycle, equipping learners education as a fundamental right.

There are many stories of ALS learners who, given a second chance in life, were able to attend informal education programs and secure gainful employment both in the country and abroad. Thankful for the chance to break the cycle of poverty, they benefit themselves and their families.

Indeed, the impact of the ALS Act has been transformative. Since its inception, the program has reached millions of learners. In 2020 alone, DepEd reported more than 800,000 enrollees in ALS programs, a testament to its growing reach and relevance. For OCSYA, the program has been a lifeline, offering them a second chance to fulfill their educational aspirations and improve their quality of life. No less than the National Economic and Development Authority (NEDA) highlighted the correlation between ALS participation and improved employability, noting that ALS graduates were better positioned to secure jobs or pursue higher education.

Despite significant progress, challenges remain. The Philippines continues to grapple

Article E. Presumptive Income Level

Section 2E.01. Presumptive Income Level. For every tax period, the Office of the Municipal Treasurer is shall prepare a stratified schedule of "Presumptive Income Level" to approximate the gross receipts of each business classification.

[The PIL technique makes use of easily verifiable indicators as means for determining gross sales.

It is based on logical assumptions that do not require monitoring of business establishments nor financial audit and complicated computation.

The indicators can be in the form of estimated daily sales/gross receipts, average number of customers. Estimates of inventories, inventory turnover and mark-ups, space occupied, occupancy rates and others.

The indicators will also depend on the nature of the business.

The major consideration in identifying possible indicators should be that these are easy to quantify, verifiable, common for the business and acceptable to both the LGU and the taxpayers.]

Section 2E.02. The Presumptive Income Level of gross receipts shall be used to validate the gross receipts declared by the taxpayers and/or for establishing the taxable gross receipts where no valid data is otherwise available.
