NIA-JRMP II turns over housing project to IP beneficiaries

City gov't boosts barangay preparedness with health emergency kits

By MARY JOY CAVANAS

TO support the health and well-being of Ilonggos, the Iloilo City Government, under the leadership of Mayor Raisa Trefias, pushes barangay preparedness through the Atipan Center with the distribution of essential health emergency kits on October 27, 2025.

The health emergency kits are composed of medical equipment, including Pulmo Aides for asthma patients and BP apparatus, which are essential for immediate emergency response.

This initiative benefited

153 out of 180 city barangays, while the remaining ones are also scheduled to receive their respective emergency kits, as the city prioritized

THE Project Management Office (PMO) of the Jalaur River Multi-Purpose Project Stage II (JRMP II) turned over the Indigenous Peoples (IP) Housing Project to 32 beneficiaries yesterday, October 28, 2025 at Sitio Agburi, Barangay Cahigon, Calinog, Iloilo.

This significant milestone attended by various stakeholders, including government officials and local leaders, highlighted the commitment of the National Irrigation Administration (NIA) in securing the welfare of the Project Affected Families (PAF), specifically the Panay Bukidnon Indigenous Peoples, in the implementation of the irrigation development project through provision of a relocation site.

A total of 32 families who were deemed qualified to avail the group relocation package based on the provisions of the project's Land Acquisition and Resettlement Action Plan (LARAP) were awarded with 35 square meters single detached house in a 150 square meters lot. Included in the relocation package is the provision of a group livelihood to ensure economic sustainability of the benefiting families.

The IP Housing Project is a collaborative project of government agencies and Local Government Units (LGU) through the Inter-Agency Convergence Mechanism for the JRMP II with a unified goal of providing better lives to the Community overcomes road closure with City Hall's swift action

By MARY JOY CAVANAS

WHEN a long-used pathway in Barangay Buhang Taft North, Mandurriao was abruptly fenced off by the Iloilo Scholastic Academy (ISA), over 200 residents found themselves cut off from their only direct access to the main road. But what could have sparked prolonged disruption instead became a story of rapid response and community resilience.

IP families.

The National Housing Authority (NHA) played a vital role in the implementation of the IP Housing Project. They funded the construction of the houses and provided their technical expertise ensuring that the housing project's compliance with national housing standards.

The Provincial LGU of Iloilo on the other hand provided safe and adequate water supply to the relocated families.

Engineer Jonel B. Borres, Regional Manager of NIA VI and Concurrent Project Manager of JRMP II, emphasized two things in his message delivered by Mr. Steve E. Cordero. He congratulated the beneficiaries for they are now the official owners of the IP Housing Project as well challenged them to continue taking care of their houses and the entire resettlement site.

On the other hand, NHA Regional Manager Rizalino G. Cabahug expressed that the JRMP II IP Housing Project is part of the Housing Assistance Program for Indigenous Peoples (HAPIP) of the NHA which provides housing projects to IPs with consideration to their customs and traditions. He then reminded the beneficiaries to take care and develop the housing project provided by the government.

Also present during the ceremony were Engineer Rolly D. Baldomero of the NHA Iloilo-Guimaras District Office, Attorney Cesar Emmanuelle Buyco Jr. of the Iloilo Provincial Local Government Unit (PLGU), Mr. Hazel Ace of the National Commission on Indigenous Peoples (NCIP), Attorney Cesar Emmanuelle Buyco Jr. of the JRMP II Multi-Partite Monitoring Team, Cahigon Barangay Captain Jinky Lumogdang, Cahigon Council of Elders Chieftain Delia Lucio and the NIA-JRMP II management.

Additionally, oximeters and infrared thermometers will be included in the next phase of distribution to complete the health emergency kits for all barangays within the city.

In her Facebook post, Mayor Treñas stressed the importance of expanding barangay-level training, and through collaboration with the City Disaster Risk Reduction and Management Office (CDRRMO), training sessions are being held to educate Ilonggo families on emergency and disaster response.

Moreover, the city government is also enhancing its services at health centers with on-duty doctors, offering free medicines through the Uswag Pharmacy in every district. Medicines that are covered by the PhilHealth Konsulta Program are also available.

Mayor Treñas also affirmed her dedication to listening, assisting, and responding to every barangay's needs, highlighting that true service lies in caring for the welfare of Ilonggos in the community.

Despite the path being on private property, Iloilo City Mayor Raisa Treñas wasted no time in addressing the urgent need for mobility. She directed the City Engineer's Office to construct and improve an alternate route, ensuring residents wouldn't have to navigate muddy or unsafe terrain to reach essential services.

Residents have lauded the swift collaboration between City Hall and barangay officials, calling it a decisive move that prioritized public welfare over bureaucratic delays.

The pathway, a vital access route for the community for several years, is scheduled to be permanently closed on November 4, with ISA planning to construct a playground on the property.

Earlier, Punong Barangay Napoleon Militar, in an interview with RMN Iloilo, shared that the barangay council is negotiating for a two-week extension to allow time for the creation of an alternative route. He also confirmed that they are seeking assistance from the Iloilo City Government to improve the proposed path, particularly addressing flood-related concerns that could affect accessibility.

Janice Galvez Mission, president of the Happy Valley Association, echoed the community's worries, citing potential disruptions and safety risks, especially during heavy rains. While acknowledging ISA's legal ownership of the land, she appealed to the institution to consider granting a small footpath to ease the burden on affected residents.

With the prompt intervention of the city government, the supposed impact of the pathway closure to around 85 households, totaling more than 200 individuals, had been averted.

PAL boosts global connectivity and extends exclusive OFW discounts

By MARY JOY CAVAÑAS

Philippine Airlines (PAL) is once again boosting its flight services by means of enhancing international connectivity and offering exclusive OFW discounts.

PAL has recently announced its new Cebu-Guam direct flights which will begin on December 16, 2025. This initiative is designed to connect travelers from Western Visayas, including Iloilo to the United States.

The new route will be operating thrice weekly, departing Cebu every Tuesday, Thursday, and Saturday at 9:40 o'clock in the evening, while return flights from Guam to Cebu will operate every Wednesday, Friday, and Sunday.

Additionally, PAL added its third daily Cebu-Iloilo-Cebu flight which aims to make the same-day travel more accessible and convenient between Iloilo and Guam. Through this, passengers can travel from Iloilo to Guam via Cebu in one hour and 30 minutes, and from Guam to Iloilo via Cebu in two hours and 50 minutes.

According to Mr. Bryan Ang, PAL Head of Philippine Sales, the new Cebu-Guam services reinforces Cebu's position as a strategic international gateway, providing easier access to the Visayas and Mindanao regions, fostering greater opportunities for business, trade, and tourism across the Philippine islands.

As PAL's domestic and international network grows, travelers from Iloilo will have more options to travel overseas via Cebu, including direct flights to Japan, South Korea, Vietnam, and Guam.

Moreover, PAL, in partnership with the Overseas Workers Welfare Administration (OWWA), is also extending their exclusive domestic travel discounts for Overseas Filipino Workers (OFWs) nationwide.

This offer—valid until December 31, 2025 and with certain blackout dates applying—will allow active OWWA members with eCards to enjoy a 10% discount on Economy Value base fares and a 5% discount on Economy Saver fares.

To avail the discount offer, OFWs must present their valid documents, including their latest Overseas Employment Certificate, certificate of employment (COE), or seaman's booklet when booking at PAL ticket offices and authorized travel agents nationwide. They can also present their digital OWWA Card at the time of booking and check-in.

This partnership also reaffirms PAL's commitment to supporting Filipino workforce, both locally and abroad, providing them and their families with comfort, safety, and world class service through enhanced travel options.

Council asks ICI to probe flood control projects in Iloilo City

ILOILO CITY – The Sangguniang Panlungsod (City Council) here on Wednesday passed a resolution requesting the Independent Commission for Infrastructure (ICI) to inspect and investigate possible "anomalies, irregularities, and misuse of public funds in all flood control projects in the Lone District of Iloilo City."

Authored by Majority Floor Leader Rex Marcus Sarabia, the resolution said the worsening flood situation in Iloilo City, "compounded by conflicting technical data, unresolved structural deficiencies, and persistent public discontent, demands immediate and decisive oversight from the ICI."

Citing the report of the City Drainage Task Force, among the several identified root causes of flooding are the lack of coordination between national agencies and the local government units (LGUs); poor maintenance and inadequate funding for drainage structures; proliferation of informal settlements along major river basins; and substandard or insufficient flood control works constructed under national programs.

"The Sangguniang Panlungsod of Iloilo City firmly believes that an immediate ocular inspection and comprehensive investigation by the ICI will not only uncover possible anomalies, irregularities, and misuse of public funds, but will also pave the way for structural reforms and just accountability for those found remiss in their duties," the resolution read.

In an interview, Sarabia said he would like to bring to the attention of the ICI the issues in Iloilo, so that the body could find time to investigate and provide justice.

He said the request covers both national and locally funded projects.

While the main issue is flood control, the ICI is not prevented from investigating other projects in Iloilo City, Sarabia said.

"There is no stopping the ICI from conducting the investigation. As I mentioned in my privilege speech, they have motu proprio powers, meaning, at their own impulse, at their own decision. Even without complaints filed, they can investigate," he said. (PNA)

52 Antique swine raisers get add'l sentinel piglets

SAN JOSE DE BUENAVISTA, Antique – The Department of Agriculture (DA) Regional Office 6 (Western Visayas) on Tuesday turned over 104 sentinel piglets to 52 swine raisers affected by the African swine fever (ASF) in the municipality of Hamtic.

“Two additional piglets were given to each of the 52 swine-raisers for free by DA,” Dr. Marco Rafael Ardamil, chief of the Public Health Division of the Office of the Provincial Veterinarian in Antique, said in an interview on Wednesday.

The same swine raisers, on Aug. 19, each received one piglet for a 40-day monitoring period to determine if the ASF virus is still present in their hog farms.

Hamtic was one of the four municipalities affected by the ASF in 2023. The three others were San Jose de Buenavista, Sibalom and Belison.

It was reclassified into the pink (buffer) zone, making it eligible for sentinelizing on Oct. 31, 2023, but it was only this year that it applied for the program.

The town incurred PHP13 million in losses due to 1,359 swine mortality. (PNA)

6 drivers positive for drug use in random test in W. Visayas

ILOILO CITY – Six out of the 1,013 transport personnel tested positive for illegal drugs during the conduct of "Oplan Harabas" in Western Visayas on Wednesday.

The activity, led by the Philippine Drug Enforcement Agency (PDEA), tested 876 drivers, 135 conductors, and two dispatchers from various terminals in Iloilo, Aklan, Antique and Capiz.

PDEA Director Ralph Rommel Torres emphasized that Oplan Harabas aims to keep roads and transport terminals drug-free, ensuring the safety of commuters during one of the busiest periods of the year.

The PDEA also deployed Narcotics Detection K9 Units to conduct sweeping and inspection activities in transport terminals.

"No illegal drugs were detected during the operation," it said.

(LTO-6) said the licenses of the six transport personnel — five tricycle drivers and a truck driver were immediately suspended.

"If the confirmatory test is still positive, we will recommend revocation of the driver's license," said LTO-6 Regional Director Gaudioso Geduspan.

The unannounced drug tests were in line with the directive of the national government to "curb illegal drug use among PUV drivers," highlighting the critical link between drugs and road safety.

LTO statistics show that drug-impaired driving is a major contributor to the country's average of 12,000 road crash fatalities annually.

The LTO said random inspections will be done throughout the year as part of its sustained crackdown. (PNA)

U.S.-China relationship

Editorial

As President Donald Trump prepares to meet Chinese President Xi Jinping in South Korea this Thursday—their first face-to-face encounter since 2019—the world watches with cautious curiosity. What was once a bipartisan consensus in Washington that cast China as America’s arch-adversary has now been complicated by Trump’s unpredictable diplomacy and his penchant for personal rapport with authoritarian leaders.

Trump’s admiration for Xi has been both striking and strategic. Despite his campaign’s tough rhetoric on China, he has publicly praised Xi as a “brilliant guy” who governs “1.4 billion people with an iron fist.” Such comments echo his past overtures to Russian President Vladimir Putin and reflect a broader pattern: Trump’s belief that personal chemistry can unlock geopolitical breakthroughs.

This summit arrives amid rising tensions over Taiwan, a democratic island that Beijing claims as its own. Trump recently expressed skepticism that China would invade Taiwan, citing his relationship with Xi as a stabilizing factor. Yet experts warn that this personal diplomacy may not align with the entrenched positions of the U.S. foreign policy establishment. Henrietta Levin of the Center for Strategic and International Studies notes that Trump’s willingness to blur lines between strategic and economic interests introduces uncertainty into long-standing U.S. policy on Taiwan.

China, for its part, has consistently opposed U.S. arms sales to Taiwan and seeks a firmer American stance against Taiwanese independence. Secretary of State Marco Rubio, a vocal supporter of Taiwan, has reassured that the U.S. will not abandon the island in pursuit of a trade deal. Still, Trump’s transactional approach—where strategic concessions might be weighed against economic gains—leaves room for ambiguity.

This isn’t Trump’s first attempt at a breakthrough. In 2019, he touted a historic trade deal promising $200 billion in U.S. exports to China—a deal that faltered amid the COVID pandemic and deteriorating relations. His subsequent rhetoric about the “Chinese virus” further soured ties and cast a shadow over his presidency.

Under President Joe Biden, the U.S. took a harder line, restricting tech exports and reinforcing alliances. Yet Beijing appears to view Trump as more flexible, if not more favorable. Yun Sun of the Stimson Center suggests that while China may dislike Trump’s style, they see him as someone they can do business with. His administration’s refusal to allow a routine stopover by Taiwanese President Lai Ching-te in New York underscores this transactional dynamic.

As Trump and Xi sit down in Gyeongju, the stakes are high but the expectations are modest. This summit may not resolve the deep-rooted rivalry between the two superpowers, but it will reveal how far personal diplomacy can go in reshaping global strategy. Whether this meeting yields a meaningful détente or merely buys time, it will be a defining moment in the evolving U.S.-China relationship. (Agence France Presse)

Tax relief for working senior citizens

A recent Social Weather Stations survey revealed that money and health are among the top reasons for stress experienced by most Filipinos. In a country with limited social support, this burden is heavier for senior citizens —many of whom grapple with rising medical costs and dwindling savings yet continue to work out of necessity to support their basic needs.

The unfortunate reality is that for many, aging in the Philippines often comes hand-in-hand with financial vulnerability, given the limited social benefits afforded to the elderly.

A 2025 study published by the Asian Development Bank called “A Descriptive Analysis of Poverty Among Older People in the Philippines” showed that there are a number of older Filipinos living below the poverty line.

“As individuals move into older age brackets, their ability to participate in the workforce decreases, resulting in decreased income and greater dependence on pensions, savings, or family support,” the report noted.

Prevailing economic and social challenges in the Philippines have prompted many senior citizens to continue working even in old age. Recognizing this growing reality is the first step in helping ease the financial burdens of many elderly Filipinos who continue to be part of the workforce out of necessity.

To help ease their financial challenges, Senior Citizens Party-list Representative Rodolfo “Ompong” Ordanes filed House Bill No. 2563, seeking to grant income tax exemption to Filipinos aged 60 and above earning PHP800,000 or less annually. The proposed exemption covers senior citizens who are employed either full-time or part-time, as well as contract workers and those working as consultants.

“Many senior citizens continue working not because they want to, but because they have to —either to support their families, pay for medicines, or keep up with the rising cost of living. After decades of service to our nation, they deserve relief —not additional financial burdens from income tax deductions,” Ordanes said.

This proposal is not just a fiscal incentive for the elderly but a matter of social justice.

Under the Expanded Senior Citizens Act, Filipinos aged 60 and above are afforded discounts and exemptions from value-added tax but there are no existing tax incentives for the elderly who remain employed.

Ordanes correctly argued that if the government can offer tax incentives to corporations and foreign investors, it should also extend similar compassion to senior citizens who continue to work with dignity in their later years.

Moreover, the proposed exemption is limited to working senior citizens with an income ceiling of PHP800,000 annually —ensuring that the benefit targets those who need it most and avoids blanket exemptions for high-income earners.

ESPRESSO MORNINGS

Contrary to concerns that such a proposed exemption might hurt government tax collection, allowing working senior citizens to retain more of their income can actually help stimulate the “silver economy” since they can spend more on goods and services. An income tax exemption can also encourage more Filipinos aged 60 and above to remain as productive contributors to the economy.

While there have been significant developments in the social benefits of senior citizens, much more remains to be done. As more Filipinos work beyond retirement age, there is a need for the government to review its tax policies to align these with current realities.

The passage of House Bill No. 2563 would not only bring financial relief to many working senior citizens, but it would also be a significant display of respect and honor for their contributions to the nation.

It would send a clear message that our nation values its senior citizens not just in words, but in policy.

Let us not penalize productivity in old age; rather, we should reward it.

A reflection on UK-PH relations

Yesterday, a ceremony was held in Malacañang to receive the credentials of United Kingdom (UK) Ambassador Sarah Hulton. During the ceremony, President Ferdinand R. Marcos Jr. reiterated the strong and steadfast relationship between the Philippines and the UK. Although the Philippines and the UK established formal diplomatic relations in July 1946, the two countries have had a longer relationship prior to that date.

First contact between the Philippines and the UK actually occurred way back in 1579 when Sir Francis Drake arrived in Mindanao aboard the Golden Hind as part of his three-year circumnavigational voyage. Thereafter, the most significant contact between our two countries was during British-Spanish conflicts during the Seven-Year War. In 1762, British forces invaded and occupied the City of Manila and a series of battles ensued in and around Manila. The conflict practically ended in 1764 when Manila was returned to Spanish rule. Though short lived, the said conflict helped spark the seeds of rebellion in the country, especially in the north. The invasion also showed Spanish vulnerability. There was also a legend or story about a Scotsman involved in training the famous snipers of General Antonio Luna – the Los Tiradores.

After this invasion, relations between the UK and the Philippines were of the more cordial kind. The British brought in investments and steam technology to help modernize sugar plantations in the country. The first railway in the Philippines, which ran from Manila to Dagupan City, was built by a British company.

Today, the UK is the largest European investor in the Philippines. Also, around 90,000 British tourists visit our country every year, making them the largest group of European tourists here. UK also spends 2 million pounds per year funding scientific collaboration projects involving environmental resilience, food, energy security, and health. There is an estimated 200,000 Filipinos in the UK, which is the largest Filipino community in Europe. Many of these Filipinos are part of the health, technology, and education sector of the UK.

Some posit that if the British were able to wrest us from Spain during the 1700's, then our country would have turned out vastly different. These alternate historians point to Singapore, India, Malaysia and even Hong Kong as models for what could have been, with emphasis on infrastructures (railway) and integrated economy with the rest of the Commonwealth nations. In terms of government, we would probably have a parliamentary form, instead of a presidential one. Would it have been better to be a British colony. Well, it certainly would have been quite different.

Looking to the future, many believe that deeper ties with the UK, especially militarily, might help our country. Last month, the UK officially communicated its intent to pursue a Visiting Forces Agreement (VFA) with the Philippines. This would allow British troops to visit and conduct exercises in the Philippines. British forces have already increased their presence in the region, with many of their naval assets including a carrier strike group being deployed. Perhaps, it is time to pursue alternate, deeper relations not only with Britain but other European countries.

A triumph for civil society organizations

When the world gathered in Vitoria-Gasteiz, Spain for the 2025 Open Government Partnership (OGP) Global Summit, Quezon City stood proudly among the champions of good governance.

Out of dozens of reform initiatives from across the globe, Quezon City emerged the regional winner for Asia and the Pacific and the overall winner for the Thematic Award: Civic Space in the 2025 Open Gov Challenge Awards.

I am exceptionally proud of this award, as I serve as the chairperson of the People's Council of Quezon City (PCQC), a body composed of more than 5,000 civil society organizations (CSO) that actively work with the Quezon City local government office.

I have written in previous columns about the Open Government Partnership and can personally attest to the meaningful participation of CSOs in local governance according to their respective sectors.

The OGP functions as a collaborative platform that brings together government agencies, civil society organizations, and other stakeholders to promote transparency, accountability, and citizen participation in governance.

The award for Civic Space highlights the importance of maintaining an environment, both physical and digital, where individuals and groups can freely engage in public life, express their views, and work for change without fear of censorship or reprisal.

This recognition is more than a victory for Quezon City. It is proof of the strong collaboration between the Quezon City government and its active CSOs -- community groups, people's organizations, and non-government organizations -- that help make governance open, transparent, and accountable. It highlights how shared leadership between citizens and government can create meaningful progress and lasting trust.

The award was given to Quezon City for its reform initiative titled "Support Capacity Building for Civil Society to Participate in Governance."

This effort captures the city's commitment to strengthening citizen participation in government affairs. It promotes programs and policies that protect the right to free expression, ensure meaningful engagement, and encourage collaboration between citizens and government.

By creating spaces where people can take part in local decision-making, Quezon City shows that democracy becomes stronger when everyone has a voice.

Civil society plays a central role in this achievement. Through various partnerships and joint projects, these organizations help ensure that governance goes beyond the Office of the Mayor, Sangguniang Panlungsod, and the various departments.

By identifying community needs, monitoring programs, and ensuring proper resource use, they bring the government closer to the people. In Quezon City, all sectors are represented: Business, youth, women, seniors, solo parents and persons with disability, among many other sectors often left unheard in political spaces. Their consistent participation keeps the government in touch with real issues and encourages transparency in public service.

At the OGP summit, Mayor Joy Belmonte emphasized that open governance is not possible without the participation of civil society. She said CSOs are vital partners in accountability and that they help identify both the gaps and opportunities in governance. The city has long supported these groups through capacity-building programs, technical assistance, and participatory mechanisms that involve them in planning, budgeting, and monitoring.

The 2025 OGP Global Summit brought together more than 2,000 government leaders, policymakers and civil society representatives from around the world. It is one of the largest gatherings dedicated to promoting transparency, accountability and citizen participation.

This milestone positions Quezon City as a leader in participatory governance, not just in the Philippines but across the Asia-Pacific region. It demonstrates how a local government can institutionalize civic engagement and create lasting systems that respect the role of citizens in decision-making. The city's programs on participatory budgeting, inclusive planning and citizen monitoring are examples of how government and people can share responsibility for shaping the community's future.

FRESH VIEWPOINTS: A NEW PERSPECTIVE

By BRIAN JAMES LU

During the summit, Belmonte presented Quezon City's "Inform Women, Transform Lives" campaign, an initiative that connects open government principles with gender equality. The campaign focuses on three goals: First, to inform women of their rights and access to information; second, to raise awareness of services addressing gender-based violence through the Quezon City Protection Center and Helpline 122; and third, to increase the number of women using these services. This project shows how access to information can empower women to protect themselves, seek justice and take active roles in their communities.

Quezon City's recognition places the Philippines once again in the spotlight as a country capable of producing strong examples of reform-driven leadership. It highlights that open governance is not limited to national governments. It can and should begin at the local level, where ordinary people feel its most direct impact. The city's achievements demonstrate that when citizens are empowered and invited to participate, governance becomes more responsive and effective.

Civil society remains the lifeblood of Quezon City's success. Organizations working in education, health, gender equality, youth development, and social accountability provide continuous feedback and act as watchdogs that promote transparency. They ensure that programs are not only well-designed but also well-implemented. Their participation helps shape policies grounded in people's real experiences, keeping the local government aligned with community needs.

Quezon City's double victory at the OGP Global Summit is both a recognition and a reminder. It recognizes the city's steady progress in creating an open civic space where citizens can freely participate and hold their leaders accountable. At the same time, it reminds other local governments that openness and participation are essential ingredients of good governance.

implementation framework and ecological importance of the Visayan Sea Closed Season under FAO 167-3. She emphasized that the annual closure, which runs from November 15 to February 15, protects the spawning grounds of sardines, herrings, and mackerel, which are vital to the region’s ecosystem and the livelihoods of many coastal communities. With the start of the Visayan Sea closed season approaching, the task force is ramping up inter-agency coordination to ensure strict compliance with the fishing ban. DTI's SSF makes year-round salt production possible in Antique town

SAN JOSE DE BUENAVISTA, Antique – Salt production in the municipality of Bugasong is now available year-round, using the shared service facility (SSF) provided by the Department of Trade and Industry (DTI).

Before, seawater had to be sundried, so they could not produce during rainy days, Babylonia Pon-An, president of Barangay Camangahan Fisherfolk Association in Bugasong, said.

“We are fortunate to be a recipient of the DTI’s SSF, for we now have the equipment to use,” she said in an interview on Tuesday.

The association availed of the SSF in 2023 with the local government unit of Bugasong as the cooperator, which provided the production center.

The facility is equipped with a horizontal continuous band sealer, working table, settling and evaporating tanks, nylon screen, stainless cooking vat, furnace, and a water pump.

With the support, they produce 900 kilos of salt monthly, including first-class, iodized salt they sell at the public market and during trade fairs.

“We have 13 association members who are working daily in salt production,” Pon-an said.

She said the 13 association members are being paid PHP300 for their labor, while their 130 members receive a patronage share at the year's end.

DTI also provided the association members with training on packaging to make their product presentable in the market. (PNA)

ARIES
March 21 - April 19

You mustn't expect any enormous changes today. The process you began three or four years ago will accelerate slightly. You're changing the moorings of your identity, the ideas that make you sure of who you are. Your family, background, and education no longer count for as much as your spiritual foundations.

TAURUS
April 20 - May 20

The day ahead should be fairly positive. You'll begin to feel the faintest hint of a major change beginning. This new phase will last seven months. As it progresses, you'll find greater freedom of expression. You can expect to shift into high gear on subjects you used to avoid in the past. Some friction with siblings may arise in the next few months.

GEMINI
May 21 - June 21

The solar system is liable to trigger a transformation that will last several months. The change will center on the means you use to fulfill yourself in terms of your career and love life. If you feel hemmed in by your training or upbringing, you can expect to seek liberation from these inhibitions in the months to come.

CANCER
June 22 - July 22

It's an excellent day for you! Although no major events occur today, there's the promise of freedom in the coming months. A fundamental shift is about to occur in your occupation and love life. As the months unfold, you can expect to be more visionary, more creative, and perhaps more rebellious. You'll be much more effective than in the past two or three years.

LEO
July 23 - August 22

To understand the shift occurring today, you must look at events from a lofty perspective. A slow liberation process is gathering momentum. Over the next few months you won't refuse an opportunity to rid yourself of an oppressive part of your past. You'll shed your old complexes and emerge renewed. Don't be alarmed if family relations suffer a bit. The distress is only temporary.

VIRGO
Aug. 23 - Sept. 22

The gentle winds of change are blowing through your life at the moment. You have a feeling of newness and an open attitude toward the world. Some outside events give you the impression that you're advancing in a concrete manner toward a new life. You can expect to have some pleasant surprises.

LIBRA
Sept. 23 - Oct. 22

In your case, the phrase "turning point" has some meaning. This turning point could take the form of a new person or a key event that changes things forever. Sometimes amazing things we hear about really do happen. One of these things may be happening to you in the coming months.

SCORPIO
Oct. 23 - Nov. 21

It may be that you've come back deeply changed from a long voyage. Of course, travel changes everyone to some extent, but in your case, the change is more profound. You're going to have a problem getting back into your old life. It may feel too limiting for you. So what are you waiting for? Change it!

SAGITTARIUS
Nov. 22 - Dec. 21

If you feel suffocated by your romantic relationship, if you feel it lacks spice or is too traditional, then why not liberate yourself? Today's planetary energy will help you turn even your craziest ideas into reality. Starting today, you're going to be asked to be more decisive.

CAPRICORN
Dec. 22 - Jan. 19

You've met some strange people who have greatly influenced your attitude about your marriage or partnership. Some people have been pushing you toward more freedom. These people have been influenced by the planetary alignments, but that's no reason you have to be. Freedom or lack of it is completely subjective.

AQUARIUS
Jan. 20 - Feb. 18

If you've yearned to modify something in your daily life, do it now. The planetary energy is telling you that the hour has come to make concrete changes. Whether the change you seek is at home or at work, physical or emotional, don't be afraid to seriously upset the status quo of your life.

PISCES
Feb. 19 - March 20

The planetary shift will probably be imperceptible today, but you'll have several months to understand how this change impacts you. It will dawn on you that you feel a strong need for liberation. Perhaps you need to release yourself from the bonds of your group. Change and innovation are in the air!

INSTRUCTIONS

Heat oil in a cooking pot. Sauté the garlic and onion until the onion becomes soft. Put-in the shrimp. Cook for 1 to 2 minutes. Remove from the pot and set aside.

Meanwhile, put-in the bagoong alamang and pour-in the coconut milk. Stir and let boil. Add the kalabasa. Cook for 8 to 12 minutes or until tender. Put the shrimp back in the pot. Stir and cook for a minute. Add the string beans (sitaw) and malunggay leaves. Cook for 2 to 3 minutes. Add salt and pepper to taste. Transfer to a serving plate. Serve. Share and enjoy!

Puzzles by Pappocom©

Sudoku is an addictive brain teasing puzzle that can be solved by lateral thinking alone and has been taking the world by storm.

The rules of the game are simple: You simply fill in all the squares in the grid so that each row, column and each of the 3x3 squares contains all the digits from 1 to 9 without repeats or omissions.

Billed as the next crossword, Sudoku's simplicity is its beauty. Although it is a number game, Sudoku requires no mathematical skills - just a keen grasp of logic and plenty of patience.

ORDER

On file is a MOTION FOR ISSUANCE OF NOTICE OF HEARING, filed by the Petitioner, through counsel.

In her motion, petitioner claimed that the publication of the whole petition is an excessive financial burden upon her considering that she has been previously recognized as having an indigent status per Order dated August 29, 2024, of then Honorable Executive Judge. Thus, she prays that to alleviate the said financial burden, only the Order or Notice of Hearing will be published in a newspaper of general circulation in the Province of Iloilo. Further, she claimed that such publication of the Order or Notice of Hearing is already substantial compliance with Sec 3, Rule 76 of the 2019 Amended Rules of Court.

Rule 79 of the 2019 amended Rules of Court, provides:
Section 3. Court to set time for hearing. Notice thereof. - When a petition for letters of administration is filed in the court having jurisdiction, such court shall fix a time and place for hearing the petition, and shall cause notice thereof to be given to the known heirs and creditors of the decedent, and to any other persons believed to have an interest in the estate, in the manner provided in Sections 3 and 4 of Rule 76. (emphasis supplied)

Further, Sections 3 and 4. Rule 76 of the Rules of Court states:

Section 3. Court to appoint time for proving will. Notice thereof to be published. - when a will is delivered to, or a petition for the allowance of a will is filed in, the court having jurisdiction, such court shall fix a time and place for proving the will when all concerned may appear to contest the allowance thereof, and shall cause notice of such time and place to be published three (3) weeks successively, previous to the time appointed, in a newspaper of general circulation in the province.

But no newspaper publication shall be made where the petition for probate has been filed by the testator himself.

Section 4. Heirs, devisees, legatees, and executors to be notified by mail or personally. - the court shall also cause copies of the notice of the time and place fixed for proving the will to be addressed to the designated or other known heirs, legatees, and devisees of the testator resident in the Philippines at their places of residence, and deposited in the post office with the postage thereon prepaid at least twenty (20) days before the hearing, if such places of residence be known. A copy of the notice must be in like manner be mailed to the person named as executor, if he be not the petitioner; also, to any person named as coexecutor not petitioning, if their places of residence be known. Personal service of copies of the notice at least ten (10) days before the day of hearing shall be equivalent to mailing.

If the testator asks for the allowance of his own will, notice shall be sent only to his compulsory heirs.

In the instant case, Benny Cordero. Sr. has contracted another marriage with Eusebia Alojado and as result of their union they had begotten six (6) children. Considering that they are also heirs of the late Benny Paisaje Cordero, Sr. thus, they need to be informed of the proceedings in court. Further, petitioner per Manifestation dated February 14, 2025, submitted to the court the list of names of the children of Benny Paisaje Cordero, Sr. with Eusebia Alojado and the address where they may be served with summons as well as the present address of Eusebia Alojado.

The court in the case of Migdonio Racca and Miam Grace Diane Racca vs. Maria Lolita A. Echague¹ held:

“Personal notice to the heirs whose places of residence are known is mandatory. Trial courts cannot simply abdicate their duty under Section 4, Rule 76 of the 1997 Revised Rules of Court by indiscriminately applying the rule on publication. To do so would render nugatory the procedure laid down in Sec. 4 and the purpose for which it was intended.”

It is clearly explained in the case of De Aranz vs Judge Goling as cited in the case of Migdonio Racca and Miam Grace Diane Racca vs. Maria Lolita A. Echague:

“notice on Individuals heirs, legatees, and devisees is a mandatory requirement.xxx

Furthermore, the court in the same case, upheld that:

“It should be emphasized that De Aranz does not disregard the rule in proceedings in rem that publication serves as a constructive notice to the whole world. De Aranz merely upholds the additional requirement under Section 4 that personal notice be served to the interested parties to the will on the condition that their places of residence are known. Otherwise, personal notification is not required even though the oppositors to the will are the compulsory heirs or named legatees and devisees, Xxx

Applying the foregoing in the case at bar, although the place of residence of the other heirs cannot be ascertained, yet, petitioner provided for an alternate address which is their place of business where they can be served with summons, with regard to the children of Benny and Eusebia. Petitioner also, in the same pleading, provided for a residential address where Eusebia may be served. Thus, notice of hearing can be served on the compulsory heirs of Benny Paisaje Cordero, Sr. while publication will suffice as to the creditors and other unknown legatees, devisees, the case having an in rem nature.

WHEREFORE, premises considered, the Motion for Issuance of Notice of Hearing is granted. Furthermore, the Branch Clerk of Court is ordered:

1) To issue a Notice of hearing setting the date and time for hearing: and

2) To allow petitioner to publish this Order and the Notice of Hearing setting forth the date and time of hearing.

SO ORDERED.

AI to address gaps in health research, development – officials

ILOILO CITY – Health researchers from Western Visayas gathered in this city for a three-day conference to promote artificial intelligence (AI) in health research and development to address current gaps in the industry.

In his message during the opening ceremonies onTuesday, Department of Science and Technology Secretary Renato Solidum said that while AI is reshaping health systems in the modern age, it's “more than just adopting the tools” here in the Philippines.

"Ours is a deeper calling: to ensure that innovation reaches every barangay, every island, and every Filipino family, no matter how distant, no matter how small," Solidum said before 300 researchers from academic institutions, national government agencies and private institutions in the region.

“The aim is a region where researchers collaborate

SCC CASE NO. 25-120

For:
“CORPORATE REHABILITATION”

IN RE: PETITION FOR CORPORATE
REHABILITATION, IVQ LANDHOLDINGS INC.
Represented by IAN ERIC S. PAMA,

Petitioner.

COMMENCEMENT ORDER

Petitioner IVQ LANDHOLDINGS, INC., (hereafter referred to “IVQ” for brevity) herein represented by its President Ian Eric S. Pama who is authorized on June 10, 2025 by the Board of Directors and stockholders owning at least two-thirds (2/3) of the outstanding capital stock to sign and institute the herein petition filed, alleges among others that it is a domestic corporation organized and incorporated in 2002 under Philippine laws with principal address at 11 Valiant Building, Mabini Street, Iloilo City, primarily engaged in real estate acquisition, development, leasing and sale, and owns and manages properties in Iloilo City and adjacent areas and holdings.

Over the past several years, however, the company has encountered severe financial distress due to declining revenues, rising costs, and tightening credit conditions. While the company’s total assets amount to approximately 198.35 million, still exceeding its total liabilities of P184.99 million as of August 31, 2025, thereby maintaining positive equity-it has become unable to meet obligations as they fall due, as its current liabilities of P186.2 million far exceed its current assets, with cash on hand of only P215,400. This situation renders the company financially distressed under FRIA standards and necessitates judicial protection to prevent further deterioration of its operations and to preserve asset value for the benefit of creditors and stakeholders.

The Petitioner attributes its financial difficulties to external and market-driven factors rather than fraud or mismanagement. It cites the prolonged impact of the COVID-19 pandemic, elevated construction and operating costs, and rising interest rates, which collectively reduced real estate demand and disrupted the timing of collections and loan takeouts. Sales revenues declined dramatically from P8.9 million in 2021 to 1.59 million in 2023, with only marginal recovery in 2024, while fixed operating expenses such as taxes, security, and administrative costs continued to erode liquidity. Credit restrictions from institutional lenders, including delayed release of loan takeouts, further constrained cash flow and contributed to growing arrears. Petition underscores that IVQ Landholdings remains fundamentally viable, supported by valuable landholdings and inventories that, although currently illiquid, retain long-term profitability once properly developed or monetized. The company stresses that its difficulties are temporary in nature, arising from short-term liquidity mismatches rather than permanent insolvency. Accordingly, it seeks the protection and supervision of the Honorable Court to enable it to execute a structured recovery plan that will allow it to meet its obligations, sustain operations, and restore profitability.

To this end, IVQ has prepared a comprehensive and feasible Rehabilitation Plan that aims to restore liquidity, rationalize debt obligations, and enhance operational efficiency over a period not exceeding ten (10) years. The plan envisions the suspension of payments to all creditors for an initial period of sixty (60) months to provide financial breathing space, followed by the conversion of short-term debts into longer-term obligations with appropriate grace periods for both principal and interest. It further proposes the monetization of select inventory assets valued at approximately P15 million within eighteen (18) to twenty-four (24) months, projected to generate P10 million to P15 million in immediate liquidity. Concurrently, IVQ intends to accelerate the development of its landholdings, such as the Escalante project, expected to produce sustained cash inflows beginning the fifth year of the plan’s implementation. In addition, the Petitioner plans to explore equity infusion opportunities from existing shareholders and potential strategic investors to strengthen capitalization and improve its financial standing. A panel of qualified Rehabilitation Receivers is nominated to supervise, evaluate, and ensure faithful compliance with the plan’s objectives under court oversight.

The Petitioner likewise commits to a series of governance and operational reforms designed to restore efficiency and transparency. These include the rationalization of manpower, consolidation of administrative and professional services, and stricter financial controls supported by monthly performance and compliance reporting. Marketing and sales efforts will be revitalized through updated pricing strategies, expanded brokerage partnerships, and enhanced use of digital platforms to accelerate property disposition and revenue generation. Through these initiatives, IVQ aims to improve its cash position, reduce expenses, and strengthen its capacity to service debts over time. The Petitioner therefore prays that the Honorable Court approve the proposed Rehabilitation Plan, issue a Stay Order suspending all claims and enforcement actions, appoint a qualified Rehabilitation Receiver, and grant the reliefs necessary to implement the plan effectively. IVQ respectfully submits that rehabilitation-rather than liquidation-offers the most equitable and beneficial outcome for all parties, as the continued operation of the company will preserve employment, stabilize asset values, and generate better recoveries for creditors than any immediate winding up. The Petition thus stands as a good faith effort to restore the company to solvency under the guiding principles of fairness, viability, and transparency enshrined in R.A. 10142 (Financial Rehabilitation and Insolvency Act [FRIA] of 2010).

Section 17 of Chapter II of R.A. 10142 provides that:

“Unless otherwise provided for in this Act, the court’s issuance of a Commencement Order shall, in addition to the effects of a Stay or Suspension Order described in Section 16 [thereof]:

(a) vest the rehabilitation with all the powers and functions provided for this Act, such as the right to review and obtain records to which the debtor’s management and directors have access, including bank accounts or whatever nature of the debtor subject to the approval by the court of the performance bond filed by the rehabilitation receiver;

or (b) prohibit or otherwise serve as the legal basis rendering null and void the results of any extrajudicial activity or process to seize property, sell encumbered property, or otherwise attempt to collection or enforce a claim against the debtor after commencement date unless otherwise allowed in this Act, subject to the provisions of Section 50 hereof;

(c) serve as the legal basis for rendering null and void any setoff after the commencement date of any debt owed to the debtor by any of the debtor’s creditors;

(d) serve as the legal basis for rendering null and void the perfection of any lien against the debtor’s property after the commencement date; and

(e) consolidate the resolution of all legal proceedings by and against the debtor to the court Provided. However, That the court may allow the continuation of cases on other courts where the debtor had initiated the suit.

“Attempts to seek legal of other resource against the debtor outside these proceedings shall be sufficient to support a finding of indirect contempt of court.”

WHEREFORE, finding the Petition together with its annexes sufficient in form and substance, the Court hereby:

- Declares that Petitioner is under rehabilitation;
- Appoints MR. EROLL C. TALLO, CPA Room 11 Mezzanine Floor Red Plaza Building, JM Basa St., Iloilo City as Rehabilitation Receiver, with a bond in the amount of P200,000.00, who shall exercise such powers and duties defined in the abovementioned R.A. 10142 as well as the procedural rules that the Supreme Court will promulgate, however, any creditor may submit the name or nominate any other qualified person to the position of rehabilitation receiver at least five (5) days before the hearing;
- Stays the enforcement of all claims, judgment, attachment or other provisional remedies, whether for money or otherwise and whether such enforcement is by court action or otherwise, against Petitioner, its guarantors and sureties not solidarily liable with the debtor;
- Prohibits Petitioner from selling, encumbering. transferring, or disposing in any manner any of its properties, except in the ordinary course of business;
- Prohibits Petitioner from making any payment of its liabilities outstanding as of the date of filing of the petition;
- Prohibits the debtor’s suppliers of goods or services from withholding supply of goods and services in the ordinary course of business, for as long as the debtor makes payments for the services and goods supplied after the issuance of Commencement Order;
- Directs the payment in full of all administrative expenses incurred after the issuance of the Commencement Order;
- Fixes the initial hearing of the petition on November 10, 2025 at 8:30 in the morning, for the purpose of determining whether there is substantial likelihood for the petitioner to be rehabilitated;
- Directs petitioner to publish this Commencement Order in a newspaper of general circulation throughout the Philippines once a week for two (2) consecutive weeks, with the first publication to be made within seven (7) days from the date of issuance of this Order;
- Directs all creditors and all interested parties (including the Securities and Exchange Commission and Bureau of Internal Revenue) to file and serve with the court and on the petitioner a verified comment or opposition to the petition, with supporting affidavits and documents, not later than five (5) days before the initial hearing and putting them on notice that their failure to do so will bar them from participating in the proceedings;
- Directs all interested parties to secure from the court the petition and its annexes to be reviewed and copied to enable them to file their comment or opposition to the petition and to prepare for the initial hearing of the petition.

The Petitioner is ordered to immediately serve a copy of the petition and to the appointed Rehabilitation Receiver, MR. EROLL C. TALLO, CPA, at his address at Room 11 Mezzanine Floor Red Plaza Building, JM Basa St., Iloilo City, who shall in turn manifest his acceptance or non-acceptance of his appointment not later than ten (10) days from receipt of this Order.

Further, let a copy of this Commencement Order be preferably served personally by the Branch Sheriff and/or Process Server to all the creditors, Securities and Exchange Commission, Bureau of Internal Revenue, Philhealth and the Social Security System, at the expense of the petitioner.

SO ORDERED.

and health research outcomes are translated into concrete policies and programs that genuinely uplift lives,” he said.

Meanwhile, Dr. Aimee Marie Gayomali from the Department of Health Western Visayas Center for Health Development (DOH WV CHD) said AI boosts health service delivery in remote areas, especially in expediting the diagnosis of patients.

With AI, she said they can direct the services to those who are really in need.

"That is making use of the limited resources that the government has," she said. “Any AI innovations that can help service delivery to the public are welcome.”

University of the Philippines - Manila Chancellor Dr. Michael Tee said with the help of AI and data, they can help “predict the appropriate intervention and improve workflow.”

Meanwhile, DOST Regional Director Rowen Gelonga said there is an ongoing effort for the region
